Valley reaction to OIA proposal mixed

By L.T. ROGERS
Asst. City Editor

A proposal that valley cities join with San Bernardino County to operate Ontario International Airport as a means of speeding development and adding more commercial flights has received mixed reaction from officials.

In a survey, responses from city and county officials ranged from "a splendid idea to explore" to "we have to take a good, hard look." Several were concerned about possible financial obligations.

Seeking to add more commercial flights and speed the airport's development, a special San Bernardino County aviation subcommittee was recently formed. Several meetings were held with officials of the Los Angeles Department of Airports which owns and operates the local airport.

"The subcommittee doesn't object to Los Angeles operating the airport if it would get additional flights and make improvements such as building a second runway," said Tony Peich, chairman.

"Noise is a big factor and the new runway would go a long way to solve the problem by moving the threshhold to the east. It would also allow the quieter, wide-bodied jets to land here."

But should the Los Angeles officials not want to put an effort into the airport, Peich suggested surrounding cities join with San Bernardino County to form a joint powers authority for its operation.

In seeking to get a reaction to such a proposal, the Progress Bulletin contacted officials in Pomona, Chino, Montclair and Upland and a county supervisor. Despite several phone calls, no response was received from Ontario Mayor Paul Treadway, however.

Regarding the airport operation, Pomona Mayor Ray Lepire said records will show that Los Angeles has dragged its feet on the airport's development. Should the proposal be aimed at adding flights and speeding development, the mayor said he was Hoffa withdrawal of $1 million from union pension fund?

DETROIT (AP) — State and federal officials are investigating reports that ex-Teamsters president Jimmy Hoffa withdrew about $1 million from a union pension fund shortly before he vanished last week, according to informed sources here and in Washington.

A Michigan law enforcement official said the allegation came from unnamed informants and he left the impression that the informants were Teamsters officials and knowledgeable underworld figures.

The official said he believes the $1 million withdrawal allegation is not tied to the Hoffa disappearance.

Another source in Washington, familiar with the Justice Department's investigation of Hoffa's July 30 disappearance, said similar information reached federal investigators. The Washington source said the alleged pension withdrawal was $1.2 million.

Rumors have circulated since Hoffa's disappearance that Hoffa had obtained a large sum of Teamsters pension money before he dropped from sight. But family members told The Associated Press they were unaware of any such transaction.

Meanwhile, federal officials were still pursuing theories that Hoffa was kidnaped or killed because union foes had learned he might win a court effort to make a comeback bid for Teamsters power.

"It is the most compelling theory," said an investigator.

The significance of the alleged pension withdrawal was not clear. If true, it would tend to support a published theory that Hoffa arranged his own disappearance and is still alive. However, U.S. Atty. Ralph B. Guy was quoted today as saying there is "no evidence" to support that theory.

The Michigan law enforcement source said his information is that Hoffa received the pension money for an unspecified investment. He said he did not know if the withdrawal was a loan or was Hoffa's own pension money.

"Jimmy definitely got the $1 million out of the pension fund two days before he disappeared," the state source said.

New inflation seen in zooming prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that higher costs for food and fuel triggered the second sharpest jump of the year in wholesale prices during July, offering fresh evidence of a resurgence of inflation.

The Labor Department said its Wholesale Price Index climbed 1.2 per cent, reversing a decline of one-tenth of one per cent in June. The rise was the largest since April's 1.5 per cent and was only the third monthly increase of the year.

The increase, which had been expected by administration economists, works out to an annual rate of 14.4 per cent. Combined with June's increase in consumer prices at an annual rate of 9.6 per cent, the latest report indicated that inflation is regaining strength. Consumer prices had subsided to an average annual increase of 5.2 per cent during the three previous months.

Wholesale price increases, of course, usually mean higher prices for consumers —and the latest report did not include several factors already in place which will push up prices.

Administration economists, however, contend the current surge is temporary and will give way within a few months.

The wholesale index includes prices from all levels of the economy, including industrial raw materials and other items several steps removed from consumers. The Labor Department said wholesale prices of just those products headed for the retail level were up 1.4 per cent, the biggest increase since November.

The Labor Department said food and farm products accounted for three-fourths of the jump in the overall index. That category rose 4.6 per cent on the strength of higher prices for vegetables, grain, fats and oils, sugar and sweets and all basic protein—meat, poultry and fish.

Industrial commodities advanced four-tenths of one per cent due to higher prices for fuels and related products and power.

The latest advance left the index 8.7 per cent ahead of where it was a year ago. This was the smallest 12-month advance since the 8.2 per cent figure recorded in February 1973.

Although inflation appears to be staging a resurgence, Ford administration economists contend that the current spurt will be short-lived.

The surge will end in a few months and thus present no threat to the economic recovery, which is currently proceeding stronger than expected, officials say.

The government's index of consumer prices jumped in June at a rate equivalent to an annual increase of 9.6 per cent. At one point earlier this year, the consumer index was rising at a 6 per cent annual rate.

Terrorists free 15; on their way

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Five Japanese Red Army terrorists today freed 15 hostages, including U.S. Consul Robert Stebbins and a Swedish diplomat, before taking off from Kuala Lumpur airport for Libya with four substitute hostages and five other radicals.

The terrorists stormed a building housing the U.S. Embassy on Monday and took the 15 hostages to the airport after demanding transportation out of the country and the freedom of the five other radicals from Japanese jails.

Enroute to Libya, the plane put down for a refueling stop at Colombo, Sri Lanka, formerly Ceylon, the Japanese Foreign Ministry said. The Colombo government said it would shoot anyone who tried to get off the plane, which is due in Tripoli, Libya about 10:45 p.m.

Stebbins, 42, of Clovis, N.M., said he believed the terrorists would have killed their hostages, originally numbering 52, if their demands were not met. Stebbins and other freed hostages agreed that the terrorists treated them well, however, and gave them candy, cushions and in one instance a bottle of perfume. Stebbins said the terrorists also took valuables and money from the hostages, but later gave them all back.

The four susbstitute hostages were Ramli Omar, Malaysian parliamentary secretary to the Communications Ministry; Osman Kassim, secretary general of the Malaysian Home Ministry; and two senior Japanese Foreign Ministry officials — Ryohei Murata and Ochi Keisuke.

Heat kills tons of Elsinore fish

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hot weather has been blamed for the death of tons of fish in Lake Elsinore.

State park officials at Lake Elsinore said the dead fish piled up in mounds as high as four feet in spots along the 18-mile lake shoreline.

They said intense heat this week, which sent the surface water temperature shooting up to 92 degrees, had killed the fish, which included shad, blue gill and catfish.

Rangers said the fish would be scooped up and buried in a disposal area.

Regain health—Gurney

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Confident that he's finally "out of the clutches of the Justice Department," former Sen. Edward J. Gurney says he will try to regain his health before deciding whether to attempt a political comeback.

"The government had its shot. They never had a case to begin with," the elated 61-year-old Republican said Wednesday after a jury cleared him of five charges in a $233,000 slush fund scandal and left two other counts unresolved.

After 56 hours of deliberation over 10 days, the six-man, six-woman jury found Gurney innocent of bribery, accepting unlawful compensation and three counts of lying to a federal grand jury.

The panel, which heard testimony from 105 witnesses in the 24-week-long trial, said it was deadlocked on a conspiracy charge and one other perjury charge against Gurney.

Codefendants Ralph Koontz, 51, and K. Wayne Swiger, 61, both suspended Federal Housing Administration officials from Florida, were found innocent of the conspiracy charge. The panel said it couldn't agree on a conspiracy count against ex-Gurney aide Joseph Bastien, 33, but acquitted him on a charge of accepting unlawful compensation.

The case centered around an alleged scheme to sell Gurney's influence to Florida builders in return for FHA favors.

Jury foreman James Baker said jurors voted 7 to 5 to acquit Gurney on the conspiracy count, 9 to 3 to find him guilty on the fourth count of perjury and 9 to 3 to convict Bastien on conspiracy. U.S. District Court Judge Ben Krentzman ruled a mistrial on the three counts.

After rendering their verdict, jurors criticized the government for presenting a weak case — "The proof just wasn't there," said one.

Blames women's lib, politicians

Crime wave like never before—Davis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The United States is on the verge of a "crime wave like the world has never seen before," warns Los Angeles Police Chief Edward M. Davis. And he says the women's liberation movement and politicians must share the blame.

In an address to the Los Angeles Breakfast Club on Wednesday, Davis said crime "is going to continue to go up, up, up," primarily because of "the new morality which condones lying, stealing and killing."

He said more mothers should stay home to instill old-fashioned values in their children.

"If Mommy believes in swinging, she believes that you can lie, cheat and steal, that you can do whatever you want to. If you don't have that culture in which to bring up that young human with love and discipline, he's going to become some sort of savage if he wants to," Davis said.

He repeated his criticism of state legislators who recently relaxed marijuana and sexual conduct laws and attacked them for making divorce laws more lenient.

"We have a problem in this country of making an arrest, gathering the evidence and presenting it to a prosecutor who is an elected politician who accepts money from pornographers, homosexual organizations or any other kind of illegal outfit," Davis said.

State Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger laughed and declined comment on Davis' remarks. And Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. said the chief tends to state his case "in an inflated manner." He said Davis is running for the chairmanship of "some international police group. He has a constituency that he has to keep in touch with, and he does this in a very effective way."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. led a cheerful entourage from a Senate Democratic caucus in Sacramento Wednesday. With him are Senators Ruben Ayala, left, of Chino and Ralph Dills of Gardena. Brown said the main topic of the caucus was collective bargaining.

Brown warming up to a presidential test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Despite frequent statements denying any presidential ambitions for the present, Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. is moving closer to a possible plunge into national politics, the Los Angeles Times reported today.

Asked by a Times reporter during an interview Wednesday how he would react if his name was placed on any state primary ballot, the 37-year-old governor said:

"I might leave it on, might take it off. I'm not locking myself in or out of anything."

But while insisting he is not a candidate for the 1976 Democratic party's presidential nomination, Brown added: "I generally don't believe in making decisions until the moment occurs. I'll serve the party in whatever capacity I feel I can. I want to do my part when I see where I can make a contribution."

The Times said members of Brown's staff, under the direction of Allard Lowenstein, have been checking the presidential primary laws of some 30 states that intend to hold primary elections next year.

In many of the states, including California, the secretary of state places names of all commonly viewed candidates on the ballot. But a person can have his name removed by filing a declaration of noncandidacy.

However, Gray Davis, executive secretary to the governor, said the checking "was just a case of staff preparedness."

"We thought it would be helpful to know the various state laws in case we had to take affirmative action to get his (Brown's) name off any ballot," said Davis.

Asked if he would commit himself to the four-year gubernatorial term to which he was elected last year, Brown said: "I'm going to stay four years."

But, he added, "I think if you do what you're doing and you do a good job, then you'll be ready for what happens. If you keep anticipating everything, you never end up doing what you're supposed to be doing. You're always one jump ahead of yourself.

"The fact is when you're governor of a large state, you're part of the national political landscape. That's a fact."

The Times said that when Brown was asked if he would state clearly that he would not accept a presidential or a vice presidential nomination, Brown replied: "I wouldn't unequivocally say that because I think it's a silly statement to make."

Legislator predicts crisis over medical malpractice

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Legislature is still failing to come to grips with the short-term medical malpractice crisis, warns a senior member.

Sen. Peter Behr, R-Tiburon, said late Wednesday the short-term crisis is "about to explode upon the state."

Behr is chairman of the Senate Committee on Insurance and Financial Institutions. He issued the warning as the committee heard evidence on a major medical malpractice bill aimed at cutting malpractice insurance premiums in future years.

The bill's author, Assemblyman Barry Keene, D-Eureka, said it would cut the premiums that doctors pay by about 30 per cent. But Behr said it would have no effect on the current situation of doctors threatening to withhold their services.

"I have no cheap nor ready answers, but we have to find them," said Behr, who added that the whole nine-member committee feels the same way.

Another member, Sen. Newton Russell, R-Tujunga, warned that even if Keene's bill passes, it won't immediately lower premium prices.

Russell said many doctors who are nearing retirement age are planning to drop their practices. Others are planning to leave the state. "And the young ones simply can't afford $20,000 to $30,000 a year at the outset" for premiums.

"Unless we find some way to bridge the gap, these doctors are going to be gone.... The wealthy will be taken care of and everyone else is going to have to fend for themselves," said Russell.

"We need to think drastic," Russell added.

Ralph J. Gampell of San Jose, a member of the State Bar's board of directors, suggested as drastic measures the requirement that all insurance companies share the burden of malpractice insurance even though it isn't profitable, and that hospitals carry insurance that would cover any doctor who walks in to practice there.

Gampell, himself both a doctor and a lawyer, said one reason for the increase in malpractice suits is that doctors are losing their personal relationships with patients. He said patients look on their doctors as businessmen, and decide to sue when angered by high bills.

Boost in jobless fund sought

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Brown administration officials are pushing legislation designed to keep the state's sagging unemployment insurance fund from running dry.

Martin Glick, director of the Employment Development Department (EDD), said Wednesday that he and his staff "commend and support" the measure by Assemblyman Alister McAlister, D-San Jose.

The bill would provide an additional $600 million for unemployment payments by boosting the tax employers pay into the unemployment insurance fund.

EDD officials predict the fund will be $100 million in the red by late 1976 if California's unemployment rate remains high and fund income is not increased.

Recession at an end, bank says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The recession is over for California and other Western states, according to researchers for United California Bank.

But they said unemployment will continue to be a major problem.

A report issued Wednesday by UCB's research and planning division said the income tax cut and rebate helped stimulate the economy.

Other factors in the recovery were a slowed pace of inflation, the end of heavy inventory liquidation, relative stability in short-term interest rates and greater vailability of money, the report said.

Restored consumer confidence also helped boost the economy out of the doldrums, the panel said.

But the picture painted by the report wasn't all rosy.

The housing and auto industries are still sluggish, the economic forecasters noted.

Unemployment should ease gradually by the end of the year, the report predicted, but the forecasters said California's unemployment rate will hover around 10 per cent through the third period.

Rape victim admitted killing, witness says

NORWALK (AP) — Deborah Kantaeng said at least twice last week that she fired the shots that killed Danny Allen, a surprise witness in her murder trial testified.

Melanie Powell, who said she met the 19-year-old defendant as the trial was beginning two weeks ago, said Mrs. Kantaeng admitted on at least two occasions in her presence that she had killed Allen.

Mrs. Kantaeng is accused of the shotgun slaying of Allen, 21, at her family's Long Beach apartment on Oct. 3, 1974 — the day after she claims she was abducted and raped by Allen.

Miss Powell's testimony created an uproar Wednesday in the Norwalk courtroom as defense attorneys charged the witness may have been planted by the prosecution to befriend Mrs. Kantaeng.

Lawyers for Mrs. Kantaeng bitterly challenged the propriety of calling Miss Powell as a witness without advance warning and said they would request a mistrial when the trial resumes today.

The witness said she had attended an informal party with Mrs. Kantaeng last week, and at one point, went outside with the defendant where they encountered a stranger on the street.

" 'Don't you recognize me?' " the witness quoted Mrs. Kantaeng as asking the man. "'Haven't you seen my picture in the paper? My name is Debbie Kantaeng. I'm the one that murdered that Danny Allen.'"

Miss Powell said she later returned with the defendant to spend the night at her family's apartment. As they were dozing off, the witness said, Mrs. Kantaeng said "something very upsetting — that she had murdered Danny Allen."

Mrs. Kantaeng told police shortly after Allen's death that she "guessed" she was the one who had fired the fatal shots. But defense attorneys now contend that the defendant's father, Robert Boyd, killed Allen and then convinced his daughter she had done it.

Miss Powell said Wednesday that Kerry Axt, a friend of Mrs. Kantaeng, told her she had perjured herself last week when she testified that it was not the defendant but Boyd, 45, who fired the shots that killed Allen. Boyd committed suicide last month.

Unicameral plan stalled by panel

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The idea of a one-house legislature doesn't strike the state Senate Rules Committee as a good idea at all.

The committee kept a unicameral proposal locked up for lack of a motion Wednesday despite pleas from such well-known backers as former Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown and State Treasurer Jesse Unruh, who was speaker of the Assembly during Brown's tenure.

The constitutional amendment proposal by Sen. Arlen Gregorio, D-San Mateo, lacked a motion to send it to the Senate floor.

The committee did agree to a motion by Sen. Nicholas Petris, D-Oakland, however, that the measure should at least be considered.

Only Nebraska has a unicameral legislature.

Gregorio's proposal would substitute a single house of 99 members for the present two-house legislature of 40 senators and 80 assemblymen.

Unruh said that the present legislature has almost lost control of the legislative process because of "a very energetic governor."

Disabled vets to receive cost-of-living increases

Ford signs bill reluctantly, says raises 'too high'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disabled veterans will receive cost-of-living increases ranging from 10 to 12 per cent, despite White House fears that the raises are too high.

President Ford signed the measure Wednesday and warned Congress the increase, which more than doubles amounts asked in his budget proposal, will cost half a billion dollars a year.

"I must, therefore, remind the Congress that we simply cannot continue adding to federal deficit spending without facing day of reckoning," Ford said.

Ford, who had asked for 5 per cent increases for the 2.2 million veterans covered by the law, urged Congress to hold its future spending to the limits he set in his budget and "to find sufficient savings in other programs" to make up for the added spending on veterans.

Under the new law, which makes the increases retroactive to Aug. 1, veterans with service-connected disabilities will get varying payments according to the rating of the disability and to anatomical loss.

The minimum pay for veterans will be raised from $32 to $35 monthly. The maximum increases from $1,454 to $1,628.

The law also includes increases of 12 per cent for widows of men who die of service-related causes. These rates vary according to the rank of the veteran at the time of death or discharge.

Pilots end three-day strike

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Air Line Pilots Association ended its three-day strike against Northwest Airlines early today with the signing of a new three-year contract, said W.J. Usery Jr., director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

A Northwest offical said there was a good chance some of the airline's flights would be resumed today but he said not many.

Northwest is the nation's seventh largest airline with major routes across the northern part of the United States and to Japan.

More than 1,500 pilots struck the air carrier Monday after charging it had backed away from some language in a contract agreement announced June 19.

The pilots had been working without a contract since July 1974.

"After 12 consistent hours of hard bargaining we were able to resolve the issues that were in question," said Usery, who is President Ford's special assistant on labor-management relations.

"There were a number of issues we were able to work out," said Usery. "There are many improved benefits in the contract, including the pension."

Details of the contract were not immediately revealed.

Tom Beedem, head of the ALPA Master Executive Council, said "the major area in this last go-round was pension and disability."

"We kind of split the pie and both sides seem to be basically satisified," he added.

Usery said the new contract was ratified by the Master Executive Council. He said it is not the type of contract that must now be approved by the entire ALPA membership.

Ray Erickson, Northwest vice president of public relations, said "there is a good chance some flights will be back in operation today, but not many.

"It'll be a gradual process," Erickson said. "We won't be able to fire them all up at the same time."

Beedem said some of the pilots will be flying today and the airline should be operating on a normal schedule in about three days.

E.B. Brown, another ALPA spokesman, said, "The pilots will be available for flying as soon as the company gives the go ahead."

Car thieves strike for third time at same valley residence

Car thieves have struck for the third time in seven weeks at 745 S. White Ave., Pomona.

Mrs. Evelyn Martin told police Wednesday that she and her husband witnessed the third theft of her mother's car Tuesday about 11:30 p.m. from a fenced driveway.

Mrs. Martin said she ran out the door just as a youthful thief backed the 1967 Pontiac Le Mans through a four-foot-high double gate in a chain link fence.

She said that the car stalled in the street, but the thief was able to get the engine started and he roared off down the street.

Mrs. Martin said that the car belonging to her mother Mrs. Irnie Byrd was first stolen June 20, and abandoned three days later in the middle of the intersection at Hamilton Boulevard and Holt Avenue. The headlights were left on, and a screwdriver which the thief used to start the car was found on the floor.

The car was next reported missing June 27, and later abandoned in the 900 block of W. Second Street.

The car battery was dead.

Mrs. Martin said her mother was not notified until July 1, two days after it was towed in and impounded. A $36 impound bill was paid to release the car.

An 18-year-old Pomonan was arrested by police Wednesday in connection with an armed robbery and kidnaping incident in POMONA last Saturday.

Gerald Joseph Miles of 2224 Belinda Ave was arrested by police after they stopped Miles' car in the 2100 block of Avalon Street. He was arrested on suspicion of being one of three men who held up Mr. K's Restaurant, 2085 W. Holt Ave., early Saturday and later forced a Pomona resident to drive them at gunpoint to another location in the city.

Police said they are still seeking other suspects in connection with the armed robbery and kidnaping.

Miles became a suspect in the case after the kidnaping victim, identified by police as Michael Woods, identified him from a police photograph.

A 23-year-old Mt. Baldy man is booked in West End Jail this morning after deputies investigating reports of illegal shooters in Ice House Canyon discovered a quantitiy of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia inside a mountain cabin.

Alan David Bledsoe, 23, was arrested at his cabin on suspicion of cultivation of marijuana and possession of narcotics paraphernalia by West End sheriff's deputies Tuesday evening.

Deputies said they went to the Ice House Canyon on reports from numerous residents in the area that someone was shooting near the cabins.

Deputies questioned Bledsoe about the shooting incident after they saw another man running from the area. While talking to Bledsoe a deputy entered the cabin to look and an empty holster and discovered the quantity of marijuna.

Bledsoe would not identify the second man and was arrested for interfering with an officers investigation and the narcotics charges.

Two Mexican nationals have been booked in the West End Jail in connection with the alleged rape of a 23-year-old Pomona woman near the California Institution for Women in CHINO early Wednesday.

Ramaldo Guzman, 33, and Pedro Fernandez Sanchez, 23, both described as illegal immigrants in the United States from Mexico, who gave sheriff's deputies an address of 8751 Pine Ave. in Chino were arrested Wednesday morning several hours after the incident was reported. Both are being held in the West End Jail on suspicion of rape without bail because of their immigration status.

Deputies said the woman told them that she had met the two suspects in a Pomona bar and asked them to drive her home. Instead, she said the men drove her to an isolated area near Pine Avenue and Euclid Avenue and at knifepoint forced her to disrobe. She said she was raped by both men who left her at the location.

Through information from the woman sheriff's detectives went to a Pine Avenue address and arrested the suspects about four hours later.

Reaction mixed on OIA proposal...

in favor — primarily for the economic rewards.

"But if the Los Angeles Department of Airports would instill a desire and do something, I wouldn't object to that."

Lepire said local cities have an ability to join in solving area problems. As an example, he cited the Valley Association of Cities which was formed to solve the abandoned housing problem.

As a means of getting more commercial flights, Lepire suggested some incentives might be offered the airlines which could include lease fees.

Montclair Mayor Harold Hayes indicated he was willing to listen to any proposals presented but would want some questions answered before making any decisions.

'There would have to be certain costs picked up since Los Angeles would expect certain obligations. Someone has to pay for these things. I don't want to get into a situation like the Ontario Motor Speedway. We have to take a good, hard look at this."

Hayes said local officials have been concerned over the airport's future expansion, particularly the new runway. "Officials now agree to move the runway 6,000 feet to the east instead of the 2,000 feet previously agreed to," he said.

Chino Vice Mayor Ed Lynch declared this proposal a "splendid idea to explore. Los Angeles had not moved fast enough in the airport's development. There could be more flights to the East Coast."

Lynch said the Ontario airport serves a much larger portion of the Los Angeles Basin than it is given credit for.

"I think Chino should have more say-so in the airport's development since we are under the flight pattern."

San Bernardino County Supervisor Robert Townsend said that if Los Angeles won't expand the airport to its full potential and add a new runway to reduce noise then "it might be better if we tried to purchase it and obtain federal assistance to expand the facility and abate the present nuisance."

When Los Angeles purchased the airport it made a commitment of expending $54 million for improvements by 1974, he added. "The 1974 figures show that $20 million has been spent on improvements. This indicates the Los Angeles Department of Airports has drug its feet on its commitment."

Townsend said the airport's development is of prime importance to the area's future industrial development. "For years the city and county general plans have indicated a substantial amount of industrial land south and east of the airport. I don't believe we will utilize that land for industries until the airport grows."

Regarding the financial obligation, the supervisor said the airport is making a profit. "And for expansion, we would have to rely on the federal government."

He said Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., has indicated he would support such an effort to obtain this type of funding if the cities and county were to operate the airport.

This could be done, he added, through a joint powers agreement between the cities and county.

Townsend suggested the airport could be operated by the San Bernardino County Department of Airports and the county's aviation committee.

"They have made a tremendous showing in the efficient management of airports operated by the county," he added.

Mayor Abner Haldeman of Upland said he preferred waiting before making such a decision because of the implications. He also noted there appears to be a concerted effort by the Ontario City Council to put on pressure for airport's development.

Israelis hit Lebanon house

Israeli commandos demolished a house in southern Lebanon early today and Lebanon reported an artillery duel across the tense Israeli border in the fourth night of fighting reported in the area.

Israel and Lebanon gave differing accounts of the night's action. Neither listed any casualties.

The Israeli military command said its troops infiltrated the central part of the border on "combing operations for terrorists.'

32 on trial for torture

ATHENS (AP) — A trial of 32 persons charged as torturers in the former Greek military dictatorship opened dramatically today with some defendants allegedly poisoning themselves to avoid appearing in court and others begging forgiveness from their victims.

Twenty-eight of the 32 accused police officers and enlisted men appeared before a military tribunal. The prosecutor said three had "apparently deliberately" poisoned themselves with food brought to their prison the night before and had to be hospitalized, and one more had escaped abroad and would be tried in absentia.

Hearst Grand Jury questions witness

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A federal grand jury reconvenes here today to question at least one reluctant witness believed to have spent part of summer 1974 with fugitive newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst.

Micki McGee Scott has been subpoenaed, and reportedly will be granted immunity from future prosecution for her testimony. She has already vowed not to cooperate.

Her husband, Jack, a sports critic and former athletic director at Oberlin College in Ohio, has been subpoenaed to appear before the jury Sept. 4.

"We don't look forward to it, but of course we're prepared to go to jail," Scott said.

The Scotts reportedly rented a house in South Canaan, Pa., used last summer by Miss Hearst and two Symbionese Liberation Army friends.

Miss Hearst, 21, daughter of Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, was kidnaped Feb. 4, 1974, by the SLA. She later said she had joined the terrorist group and is now sought on bank robbery and weapons charges.

The information that Miss Hearst may have been in Pennsylvania with William and Emily Harris, also SLA fugitives, allegedly was given to the grand jury last March by Jay Weiner, 21, of Philadelphia, former Oberlin student who reportedly visited the Scotts at South Canaan.

GLOVER MILLER

At 113, he works daily, aims at 120

ASPERMONT, Tex. (AP) — Cane in hand, Glover Miller shuffles through the First National Bank where he has been employed for as long as anyone can remember.

Miller says he is 113 years old, and few in this West Texas community of 1,200 will quarrel with that.

The oldtimer picks up trash at the bank and relishes memories obscured somewhat by time.

Miller says he was born into slavery near Montgomery, Ala., during the Civil War.

—"Let's see," he says, trying to recall how many children he has. "You'll just have to ask my children about that. I've got so many."

His daughters say the old man had 21 children and two wives.

Miller says he doesn't care much for television but enjoys the jesting of a "preacher friend. He always preaches my funeral. He tells me I am living on somebody else's time. Ands he just says he hopes it's not his time I'm living on."

Miller adds: "I don't reckon I'll ever retire. I'm the oldest man in Jones County and I plan to live seven more years."

Why seven years?

'Might as well make it even," he said, his face in a pixie grin.

Reds in Portugal fire on mob, kill 1, hurt 5

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portuguese Communists opened fire today on a mob attacking their headquarters in the northern town of Fafe, killing one person and wounding five, officials said.

Portugal's internal security chief, Gen. Otel Saraiva de Carvalho, and the army chief of staff, Gen. Carlos Fabio, rushed to the area.

Fafe, about 200 miles north of Lisbon, was the scene of anti-Communist violence earlier this week.

Other anti-Communist rioting was reported in Bombarral, 40 miles from Lisbon. Rioters tore apart the offices of the Communist party and the Socialist Leftist party, a small, militant group.

The riots marked the fifth straight day of anti-Communist violence in the conservative north. Military men and civilians expressed fear that the backlash would soon hit the capital, possibly setting off civil war.

In the industrial northern city of Porto, a scheduled Communist rally mustered only a few thousand supporters. The 140 marines who were rushed Wednesday to bolster local troops were not called out.

Meanwhile, the Lisbon newspaper O Secolo quoted Communist-backed Premier Vasco Goncalves saying: "We have a government."

The paper said Goncalves is expected to name the new cabinet soon and end a crisis precipitated last month when Socialists and Popular Democrats quit the government to protest its swing toward the radical left.

Goncalves met late into the evening with President Francisco da Costa Gomes and leading members of the ruling Armed Forces Movement.

O Secolo said Goncalves had apparently agreed to share rank with two other men, one military and one civilian, to end the crippling powler struggle. It said Goncalves, who is known to have lost the confidence of top military commanders, would be downgraded to serve as a vice-premier with internal security chief Otelo Saraiva de Carvalho and a university economics professor, Teixeria Ribiero.

The center Social Democrat party (CDS) urged that the Socialist party, not Goncalves, be put in charge of forming a new government.

Son claims O'Brien has Hoffa knowledge

DETROIT (AP) — Jimmy Hoffa's son says he believes Charles "Chuckie" O'Brien, Hoffa's foster son, knows what happened to the ex-Teamsters union president. He demands that O'Brien take a lie detector test.

O'Brien, the 41-year-old union organizer raised by Hoffa from the age of 3, said he had no knowledge of Hoffa's whereabouts. He talked with James P. Hoffa, Hoffa's son, who demanded O'Brien take a polygraph examination.

"He hemmed and he hawed and he said he would have to consult his attorney," said James P. Hoffa. "I construed that to be a refusal."

O'Brien emerged Wednesday from several days of seclusion and was interviewed by the FBI for 3½ hours. He is expected to be questioned again as the FBI continues its probe into the disappearance of Hoffa last Wednesday.

"I think he has knowledge of what happened," James P. Hoffa told The Associated Press Wednesday night." Hoffa, a Detroit attorney, said O'Brien's FBI interview generated "some interesting leads.

"Some are being checked out. Some are very, very interesting."

O'Brien would not comment. James Burdick, O'Brien's attorney, told The AP that O'Brien was not involved in Hoffa's disappearance.

Hoffa called home last Wednesday to say Detroit Mafia figure Anthony Giacalone hadn't shown up for a luncheon date. The 62-year-old former labor leader hasn't been heard from since. Giacalone denies he had planned to meet Hoffa, a longtime friend.

O'Brien provided corroboration of Giacalone's story that he was at a Southfield athletic club at the time of the luncheon meeting.

'Vacation' ends for astronauts

HONOLULU (AP) - An unanticipated Hawaiian vacation ends tonight for the Apollo astronauts who have been given a tentative clean bill of health in their recovery from breathing poison rocket gas two weeks ago.

Astronauts Vance Brand, Thomas Stafford and Donald Slayton will meet newsmen in Washington, D.C., Saturday morning to discuss details of the mishap in the command module during splashdown from the Apollo-Soyuz mission July 24.

Following the news conference at National Aeronautics and Space Administration headquarters, the three spacemen and their families will be hosted by President Ford at a White House luncheon and awards ceremony. They are scheduled to return to the Houston Space Center Sunday.

Doctors at Tripler Army Medical Center examined the astronauts Wednesday and said initial test results showed they were in the same health as they were before they went into space.

But NASA surgeon Arnauld Nicogossian said it would be a month from the time of exposure to the nitrogen tetroxide gas before doctors could say with assurance there would be no complications.

A possible complication, although deemed unlikely by doctors, would be a fibrosis condition in the lungs with scar tissues filling air pockets and reducing breathing capacity.

Following the final medical assessment at Tripler Wednesday, the astronauts returned to their beachfront cottages at the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station where they have been in semi-isolation with their families since July 30 after spending five days in the hospital.

India's court power curbed by Gandhi

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government today pushed through sweeping constitutional amendments curtailing the right of the courts to pass judgment on her emergency decrees.

The amendments in effect removed her legal problems — conviction on electoral abuses charges — from Supreme Court review and gave her power to maintain emergency rule indefinitely, including police power to arrest political dissidents without trial.

The amendments passed 336 votes to none amid laughter and cheers in the lower house of Parliament, moving next to the upper house where equally overwhelming approval is assured.

The amendments marked a new departure in consolidating Mrs. Gandhi's authoritarian rule. They also represented the first substantial changes in the parliamentary democracy willed to India by its former British colonial masters.

Being unemployed leaves lasting scar

CHICAGO (AP) — The shock of being unemployed leaves a scar that lasts long after the person gets another job, two Connecticut psychologists say.

"The higher one's status and the more sudden ones fall, the greater the impact," add Drs. Dorothea D. Braginsky of Fairfield University and Benjamin M. Braginsky of Wesleyan University, brother and sister.

"Lifestyle, expectations, goals, roles and appearance all change," they write in the August issue of Psychology Today. "The trauma leaves a permanent scar, our research shows, long after the victim moves ... back into the social mainstream."

They said they compared attitudes of 46 unemployed men with those of 53 similar men holding jobs. The jobless were 23 to 59 years old, nearly half were college graduates and many had held managerial or engineering positions.

About 80 per cent were experiencing their first unemployment after 20 years of steady work.

The psychologists said they found the unemployed felt that they were unwanted by society, that society was callous and indifferent toward them; they had done socially worthwhile work and would like to do the same work again someday; and that they were small and insignificant.

"Some unemployed men believe that their society turns away from productive citizens who need a helping hand, while it gives lavish aid and comfort to nonproductive citizens and to unfriendly nations," the Braginskys said.

They said that after some of the unemployed men studied had found new jobs, they not only remained cynical in their attitudes toward society, but their cynicism had increased.

"This to us appears that the social transformation is not only sudden and total, but its impact can lead to lasting changes in one's conception of society, self, friendships, ethics, family, and even in one's experience of everyday life," the psychologists wrote.

Bomb victim family suing

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The family of one of three persons killed in last year's bombing at Los Angeles International Airport has filed a $500,000 suit.

The Superior Court suit was filed by Bessie and Frances Hsu and Karen Sugita, relatives of the late Leonard Ksu.

From rags to riches to rags

MOUNT LIBERTY, Ohio (AP) — Jerry Compton is philosophical about the whole affair. After all, he figures he's out only 50 cents.

But the state lottery ticket he lost was worth $15,000, and, with luck, it could have brought home $1.3 million.

Here's what happened to Compton on the road from riches to rags:

The Penn Central railroad employe and some companions stopped at a tavern last Thursday when the week's lottery numbers were being announced.

Not only did Comptons ticket qualify him for the Buckeye 300, which guarantees winners at least $15,000, and up to $300,000, but he was a $20 winner as well. That would make him eligible for periodic millionaire drawings, or one of several smaller cash prizes.

Compton and his friends stayed to celebrate his luck, and when he left for home he stashed the ticket under the seatcover of his automobile for safety.

His wife, Jean, says her husband didn't tell her of his good fortune, and on Friday, she took the car to Columbus.

"When I got out, I noticed the ticket under the car seat and pushed it back under the cover," she said.

Guard dog agency swamped

Crime wave has business booming

CERRITOS (AP) — They say crime doesn't pay, but you couldn't prove it by Bob Buesing.

Buesing is president of Continental Canines, Southern California's largest guard dog agency. He says business is booming.

"Two years ago we were writing one new account a week and now it's three," he says. "Unemployment goes up, crime goes up ... and we get more business."

Continental Canines leases sentry dogs to more than 300 customers, with a fleet of vans delivering and picking up 850 dogs each night. Buesing's customers include the City of Los Angeles, Sears, United Parcel Service, several school districts and dozens of car dealers.

Continental Canines has about 1,200 dogs, mostly German shepherds, but also uses Doberman pinschers, Labrador retrievers and a number of other large breeds.

Buesing says he raises about half his stock and gets the rest from owners whose pets have become too much of an expense. His company goes through 25 tons of dog food each month.

Buesing says it takes about three months to train a sentry dog, with more time required for specialized assignments.

"We can train them to the point where they'll punch a watchman's button, and we've had dogs working in lumber yards who were trained to smell smoke and then run over and punch the fire alarm," Buesing said in an interview.

"If I could teach my dogs to drive, I'd retire."

Other guard dog agencies also report large upswings in business.

"Our training has gone up double," says Jack Thayer of Jack Thayer Guard Dogs in Glendale, which has trained dogs for entertainers Sonny and Cher, Diana Ross and The Jackson Five singing group.

"This recession we're having is causing a lot of thefts," says Thayer. "We're doing a lot of training for small businesses that can't afford our leasing service anymore. So we train them and they take their own dogs back and let them run on the premises."

The jump in business has brought many unqualified people in to the guard dog business, humane officials say, with some alleged trainers operating out of their homes with dogs they pick up in local pounds.

"The guard dog business is in terrible need of control by state and local authorities," says Bob Rush of the L.A. Department of Animal Regulation. Rush says prospective customers of guard dog agencies should ask to see a list of other clients and proof of insurance before signing up.

On the other hand, they might follow the lead of a San Francisco jewelry store owner who dislikes dogs and puts a spider among his baubles at night.

"Warning," the sign in his window reads, "this area patrolled by tarantulas."

L.V. now partner in ambulance firm

The City of La Verne has bought itself a partnership in the paramedic and ambulance business for a total of $14,676.16.

A three-year contract with the Community Ambulance Service, Inc., of San Dimas guarantees that residents of the city will be given prior consideration over calls elsewhere in emergency cases for the next three years.

Ronald James Fleig, president of the paramedics and ambulance firm, told the City Council Monday night that his company has spent that amount for equipment and drugs and for the training of four persons to bring service to La Verne.

He said he could not foot the expense without raising fees for ambulance and service calls. He told the council that if he was not reimbursed for the expenses he would pull his ambulance out of the city and station it in Azusa which was also competing for the service.

Councilman Frank Johnson urged the council to keep the ambulance here, even if it meant buying the equipment.

"It would be a shame to lose it," he said. "There isn't a home in La Verne that may not use it some day."

Although Councilman Dan Lopez declined to vote, the rest of the council agreed.

Under the contract, the city will reimburse Fleig $4,000 for training four of his men, will play $1,000 for drugs and miscellaneous equipment, and about $9,700 for inhalation and monitoring equipment. The ambulance service will lease it all back for $1 a year.

S.D. planners oppose Arrow business plan

The San Dimas Planning Commission has recommended denial of a general plan amendment request for commercial development on both sides of Arrow Highway between Lone Hill and Valley Center avenues.

The commission's recommandation Tuesday night was coupled with the additional suggestion that a specific plan be developed for the area.

The City Council sent the matter back to the commission two weeks ago for a definite recommendation on the feasibility of a general plan amendment in the area. The general plan projects the properties on the north and south sides of Arrow Highway as multiple family residential. Residents want the parcels developed for commercial use.

The City Council may consider the matter at its Sept. 8 meeting. After hearing testimony on the amendment request, the council has the option of approving or denying the amendment, approving or denying the specific plan recommendation from the commission or taking an independent action of adopting an amendment with a blend of uses without a specific plan.

The commission approved a conditional use permit and variance for a single family residential development of 139 units on Foothill Boulevard, west of San Dimas Avenue.

The commission approved detached single family units with the sideyard easement concept. Butler Housing of Irvine will be the developers of the property formerly the Woodglen Town Homes.

Mayor press aide tosses hat in ring

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor Tom Bradley's news secretary, Bob Kholos, confirmed that he will run next fall for the congressional seat now held by Rep. Alphonzo Bell, whom Bradley endorsed in 1974.

"I'm committed to run. I'm not going to back out," said Kholos Monday. He said he will take leave of absence from his $25,682-a-year job to oppose Bell, a Republican who is believed to be seriously considering running next year for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Democrat John V. Tunney.

Kholos said he had discussed his plans with Bradley but the mayor was noncomittal about support. Bradley was unavailable for comment.

Kholos said he would run for Bell's coastal district seat regardless of whether Bell chose to seek reelection.

"I think Al Bell is a very honorable man, although our philosophies are quite different," said Kholos. But, he added, he would oppose him by telling the voters "what I think and what I have to say."

Treat before sneezing

CHICAGO (AP) — If you suffer every summer with allergies to pollen, ragweed, grass, mold, etc., the message from physicians at the University of Chicago Division of the Biological Sciences and the Pritzker School of Medicine is: See your doctor early. The best care is continued treatment well in advance of an acute attack.

"Each attack damages tissue, reduces airflow through the nasal passageways, and increases the sensitivity to further reaction-producing stimuli," says Dr. Richard M. Rothberg, professor of pediatrics and pathology at Wyler Children's Hospital, operated by the Home for Destitute Crippled Children in affiliation with the University of Chicago.

The allergic reaction — watery eyes, sneezing and sometimes blocked sinus passages — is triggered by an immune response to an airborne substance such as pollen or mold.

Two methods of treatment most commonly used by internists, pediatricians and allergists are treatment with drugs, including antihistamines which can prevent damage and reduce secretions in the upper respiratory tract, and treatment with inoculations of the offending allergen (allergic agent) to build the body's supply of blocking antibodies against that particular irritant.

Each method, say University of Chicago physicians, employs a long-term approach to the patient's problem.

"A deep depression hit me so hard that even my physical movements became leaden. There is simply nothing in prison that can lift that depression. It simply gets worse."

An Exclusive Memoir By Jeb Stuart Magruder:

"My First Days In Prison"

Watergate is a thing of the past for most of us, but not for Jeb Stuart Magruder, a former aide to President Nixon who served seven months in prison for his role in the cover-up. This week, Magruder writes about those painful months of confinement, where the only topic of conversation was the date of your parole. He talks about the initial unreality and the ensuing sense of helplessness. Read how Magruder fought off the all-consuming depression of prison by using his spiritual resources to their full extent.

The political arena

Rousselot: stop India aid; Lloyd: need living hike

REP. JOHN H. ROUSSELOT, R-26th Dist., has introduced a resolution in Congress to halt foreign aid to India because of that nation's "retreat from liberty."

He reported the United States has given India over $9 billion since 1963, with private donations making the figure even higher.

In his resolution, he called for no United States funds being used to aid India until the President certifies to the Congress that the democratic liberties and civil rights existing before the June 26, 1975 actions of that government have been restored.

"As long as the civil rights of the people of this once democratic nation are being violated, we should discontinue sending funds to the government of India."

REP. JIM LLOYD, D-35th Dist., supports a cost of living adjustment for government workers as proposed by President Ford. This would involve top-grade federal employes, federal judges and congressmen. The measure, approved by the Senate on July 29, would become effective Oct. 1.

"I agree with the President this cost of living adjustment is necessary to keep competent people in government," he said. "The workers who would receive this raise have not had a cost of living increase since 1969, during which time the cost of living has risen 47 per cent."

The cost of living increases for members of Congress are also justified because they have been hit doubly hard by the rise in the cost of living as a result of having to maintain two households — one in the home district and one in Washington, D.C., he said.

The 33rd Senatorial District Democratic Council will honor SEN. JOHN TUNNEY, D-Calif., Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at the home of Kaz and Mary Miyashita, 15920 Youngwood Drive, Whittier.

Guests will include Jack Albertson, star of the television series, "Chico and the Man"; Wallace Albertson, president of the California Democratic Council; and Stella Epstein, Southern Women's divisional leader of the California Democratic Party.

Donations of $5 will be asked, with refreshments and food being served. The district includes Diamond Bar, Rowland Heights and Hacienda Heights.

Claremont incentive plan reduces school vandalism

The Claremont Unified School District's vandalism prevention program this past school year was a success — up to a point.

That point was April 15 when district officials declared that vandalism costs were down 53 per cent over a similar period the previous year.

Then from April 16 until the end of school in June a wave of vandalism swept through the 12 district schools and cost the district $3,966.39, mostly for broken windows.

That figure plus the $4,200 in damage for the period from July 1, 1974 to April 15 gave the district a vandalism bill of $8,167.37 for the past year.

The vandalism bill for 1973-74 was $12,057.25.

In September the school board had set up a vandalism prevention program and allocated to each school an amount predicated on $1 per average daily attendance.

The amount of vandalism cost was deducted from each school's allocation from Sept. 1 to April 15, and any money left over was disbursed to the schools who used the funds for local projects.

Two schools — Danbury with a bill for $114.21 and Claremont High with vandalism costs totaling $2,271.41 — did not share in the disbursements.

District officials did not anticipate the 10 weeks of vandalism which would hit every school in the district until the close of school.

Claremont High suffered most with $2,000.12 in damage. That figure combined with the $2,271.41 for the earlier period gave the high school a total bill of $4,271.53, $18.85 higher than in 1973-74.

District Business Manager Charles Abbott said that the district "this next year must find ways to discourage or preclude the type and extent of destruction which occurred late in the year."

He said that a business services subcommittee will be working on the problem and will make recommendations on modifying the conditions and funding of the vandalism prevention program for the next school year.

Mountain View Elementary School was a June weekend target of some vandals who gave the district a bill for materials and labor of $775.67, second only to Claremont High.

Mountain View officials happily accepted a check in May for $150.89 after the school had sustained $199.11 in vandalism damage for the earlier part of the school year.

Almanac

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Aug. 7, the 219th day of 1975. There are 146 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1789, the U.S. War and Navy Departments were established.

On this date:

In 1782, George Washington established the Order of the Purple Heart.

In 1804, an American fleet bombarded the Mediterranean port of Tripoli.

In 1912, a Progressive Party convention in Chicago nominated Theodore Roosevelt for President.

In 1941, Soviet planes carried out their first bombing raids against Berlin in World War II.

In 1942, U.S. Marines landed on Guadalcanal in the Pacific.

In 1945, the Soviet Union declared war on Japan, seven days before the Japanese surrender in World War II.

In 1957, a Federal grand jury in New York indicted Col. Rudolf Abel as a Soviet spy.

Ten years ago: Item will move later this week.

Five years ago: Middle East fighting ended as Israel and Egypt agreed to a 90-day ceasefire.

One year ago: West Germany and Syria agreed to renew diplomatic relations, which had been cut by the Syrians in 1965.

Thought for today: I believe about work as I believe about drink: It should be used in moderation — George Jean Nathan, American writer and critic, 1882-1958.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the local Committee in Hardwick, Mass., ordered the people to shun six men who were not supporting the Colonists in their struggle against Britain.

Bill seeks to make parole members pay for damages

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Republican lawmaker has introduced a bill that would make state parole board members financially liable for damages and injuries caused by parolees.

"These officials shorten the sentences of convicts and release them into the community, and they should take full responsibility for their actions," Assemblyman Mike Antonovich of Glendale said recently.

The bill would make members of the Adult Authority Board financially liable for violent crimes committed by parolees within 24 months after their release from prison.

"Such responsibility will make members of the Adult Authority Board think more carefully before they agree to the release of dangerous criminals," Antonovich said.

The bill is AB 2454.

L.V. council adrift on water project issues

By CONNIE CASLER
PB Correspondent

La Verne city councilmen Wednesday night again failed to endorse or condemn a Pomona Valley Municipal Water District plan to bring more and cleaner water to the valley.

It was a continuation of a stormy July 10 session which saw Councilmen Daniel Lopez and Harrison Sanborn demand La Verne water consultant Kenneth I. Mullen's ouster.

Six months previous to the July 10 meeting, Mullen said the $3 million current La Verne system now near completion would be adequate until 1985.

But in the July meeting, he reversed his earlier predictions and said the council should endorse the proposed PVMWD $40 million bond issue for additional facilities.

La Verne's share of that project would be about $2½ million.

PVMWD general manager Stan Kawa presented a 90-minute slide lecture to councilmen outlining benefits of the $40 million program to La Verne. But Lopez and Sanborn, joined sometimes by Mayor Mike Morales, demanded more data "so the laymen" can understand what the project would mean to and cost La Verne before granting or denying an endorsement to the PVMWD project.

Kawa said La Verne's endorsement is not a legal requirement before the district can ask voters to decide the issue Nov. 4. Deadline to notify the county election board of its intention to hold an election is Aug. 18, the same day La Verne City Council meets next.

Morales, Lopez and anborn ordered Mullen to bring back figures the average citizen can understand but doubted Mullen could recompute data by that time.

Special legislation passed last year (Senate Bill 2219) and aimed only at Pomona Valley Municipal Water District allows all voters in the district — a subsidiary with its own trustees of the Metropolitan Water District — to pass the measure by a simple majority. Other bond elections in the state must be passed by a two-thirds majority.

Legislation also allows the simple majority to pass the measure district wide. If one community or more soundly defeats the measure and others carry enough votes to give the district a majority, those communities voting against the bond issue still would be forced to finance bonds by taxes or higher water rates.

Pomona, for example, with by far the largest number of voters in the district, is obligated for only 1.7 per cent of the project since it does not need much of the proposed output of the new system.

But La Verne with a quarter of the number of voters is obligated for more than 18 per cent of the total cost and Claremont with a similar number of voters is obligated for 31 per cent of the cost.

Kawa unveiled plans for a $13 million filtration and distribution plant at the 1,700-foot level in foothills above Claremont and a $23 million, 4,500-acre-foot reservoir lake between Diamond Bar and Pomona to handle more pure state water project water.

Mullen explained during the heated session that La Verne "could go it alone" with its present system which relies on Colorado River water and its own wells. But since the water is distributed from a low point in La Verne, costs of pumping water to higher parts of La Verne would be prohibitive in years to come with rising energy costs.

Kawa diagrammed how Feather River water will come into the valley at the 1,700-foot level via aqueduct and flow downhill by gravity without pumping to most areas of the valley, eliminating pumping costs. The water also is cleaner and softer than Colorado River water, he said.

Nitrate levels, described by federal officials as a health hazard, now will exceed health guidelines set down by the Environmental Protection Agency. This is caused by nitrate well contamination in Claremont. La Verne and other communities where local well water now accounts for 74 per cent of consumption mixed with 26 per cent Colorado River water which is extremely "hard." By the year 2010, this ratio will be 33 per cent local well water compared to 67 per cent either Feather River or Colorado water.

Feather River water is less contaminated and "softer" than Colorado River water, Kawa said.

He added that the real saving to consumers would be in years to come when Feather River water is put into the system from high in the foothills from an aqueduct there and will eliminate energy costs due to pumping water to high elevations.

Sanborn voiced displeasure with the Metropolitan Water District which operates the 300-acre Weymouth filtration and pumping plant in La Verne with that MWD land taken off tax rolls. La Verne gets none of its water from this plant but supplies the plant with police and fire protection plus other city services with no benefits accruing to La Verne, Sanborn said.

8 counts filed, bond denied for suspect in rape-slaying case

Eight charges including murder and rape have been filed against a 20-year-old man accused of the slaying of a 12-year-old girl last Thursday.

The suspect, Donald Ray Piggue, appeared for arraignment Tuesday and again Wednesday before Commissioner Thomas Peterson in Pomona Municipal Court.

Because of the seriousness of the charges, Commissioner Peterson declined to set any bond, and Piggue was returned to county jail to await preliminary hearing Aug. 19.

The eight charges include the murder of the child, as well as attacks on two other women during a 24-hour period. Deputy Dist. Atty. Richard Jenkins filed accusations of rape, attempted rape, assault with intent to commit rape, assault with a deadly weapon and two counts of robbery and burglary.

Police said he raped a woman on the night of July 31, in an apartment building at 1376 Murchison Street. He reportedly broke into another apartment the following night occupied by Antonette Marie Conrad, 12, and her family, slashed the child's throat with a butcher knife, and later tried to rape her stepmother as she was returning from work.

Her screams attracted neighbors and the suspect fled.

The two women selected Piggue's picture from a group shown to them the next morning, and officers arrested Piggue a short time later, according to the report.

Valley driver hits flock of sheep; 30 killed

A pickup truck ran into a flock of sheep early Wednesday on Riverside Drive near Ontario, killing 30 and injuring six.

The sheep were being herded down the middle of the street in the rural area. The driver of the pickup failed to see the sheep because of a "cloud of dust," said highway patrolmen.

Marten Hogerhuis, 19, of 12174 Carlile St., the driver, suffered minor injuries but refused medical treatment.

He was driving about 55 miles an hour east on Riverside Drive when he came upon the flock about a mile east of Turner Avenue, said officers. Two sheepherders at the back of the flock heard the oncoming vehicle and tried to slow the driver by shouting and waving their arms.

The herders said the truck appeared to be going too fast to slow down in time. The two ran to the side of the road to avoid being hit.

Killed by the impact were 29 ewes and one ram, said officers. The six injured sheep sheep were killed at the scene. The sheep were owned by Frank Arretche of Upland.

30 booths okayed for Pomona rancho fiesta

More than 30 applications for booths at Pomona's La Fiesta del Rancho San Jose have been accepted by the Pomona Bicentennial Committee.

The fiesta, celebrating Pomona Centennial and the nation's Bicentennial, will be held Sunday, Aug. 17, at the Pomona Civic Center plaza.

Applications for food, game, arts and crafts and other booths were approved for the following organizations:

Avenue of Flags Committee, Beta Community Service Center and the Minority Coalition, the Bilingual Program-Boletin del Progreso-La Casita, Eleanor Roosevelt Democratic Club, Girl Scout Brownie Troops 649 and 372, Grupo Juvenil, Indian groups, Jr. Girl Scout Troop 413, Kundalini Research Institute, La Verne Little League Senior Division.

Loyal Order of Moose, Pomona Brewers Club, Pomona Junior Women's Club, Pomona Valley Art Association, San Dimas Coordinating Council, San Dimas Jaycees, Soroptimist Club of Pomona, We T.I.P. Inc., and Women of the Moose.

The committee approved exhibits by the Alcoholism Council of East San Gabriel & Pomona Valleys, Bahai's Faith of Pomona & Claremont, Bank of America, General Telephone Co., Pomona Fire Department, Pomona Unified School District, Pomona Valley Art Association, Pomona Valley Humane Society, Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council, and Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Applications for entertainment were accepted from the Calico Rompers Square Dance Club, El Ballet Folklorico de San Dimas, Indian dancers, Kundalini Research Institute, Los Angeles County Mariachis, Pomona Concert Band and the Third Marine Aircraft Wing Band.

Unmoved by train blasts, man killed

An unidentified man was struck and killed by a Southern Pacific freight train near downtown Pomona Wednesday evening in what police believe was a suicide.

Police said the man, described as Caucasian about 50, sat on the railroad tracks between Park Avenue and Main Street.

As the train approached at 60 miles per hour, the man continued to sit motionless with his head in his arms. Police quoted witnesses as saying the train engineer repeatedly sounded the train's horn.

The force of the impact carried the man about 125 feet down the tracks. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

The man's body was turned over to the Los Angeles County Coroner's Office, which will attempt to learn his identity.

Injured Ontarians still in hospital

Two Ontario men, injured when a car crashed into two trees Tuesday night, remained hospitalized today with multiple injuries.

The driver of the car Arthur Morales Alvillar, 19, of 1430 W. E St., Ontario, and his passenger Tony Martinez, 19, of 1215 E. Alvarado St., Ontario, were both listed in "stable" condition this morining at Ontario Community Hospital.

Police said the car, eastbound on State Street near Cherry Avenue in Ontario, suddenly veered off the street and crashed into two trees. Both Alvillar and Martinez were pinned in the vehicle when officers arrived.

Real estate assessments published in PB today

The Progress Bulletin is publishing a list of all changes in the city in real estate assessments today.

The annual list is provided by county Assessor Philip E. Watson.

He says the publication of the list not only notifies property owners of changes in the assessed valuation of their properties, but also permits them to compare the new valuations with those placed on neighboring properties.

Watson has provided the public audit of his department's real property assessments since 1965 as part of his philosophy of full disclosure of such information.

The assessment list includes all changes in property values in Pomona as well as most of the county areas which surround the city.

The rolls are on Pages 28 through 31 and 34-35.

They are Carol Lynn Clark, Virginia Chavez, Alice Marez, Joseph Robert Menard Jr. and Norma Irene Vecchio.

Carnival day for Rowland

The Rowland Recreation Department will have its summer carnival day at Rowland Elementary School in Rowland Heights Friday starting at 2 p.m.

There will be booths and games, and a free watermelon feed for elementary school children.

Poly project for kids ends fourth year

The EXPLORE program at Cal Poly has fulfilled a double goal of providing youngsters a host of recreational activities and developing their skills in different areas.

The program, a project ending its fourth summer, is coordinated by Cal Poly, Pomona Unified School District and the City of Pomona. The college provided the staff supervisors while buses and drivers were supplied by the local school district. The Pomona Parks and Recreation Department paid the drivers' salary.

The program ended today after continuing for six weeks on Mondays through Thursdays from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

EXPLORE stands for Extending Poly's Leisure Opportunities and Recreation Environments, and the program is geared primarily toward helping Pomona underpriviljeged youth. A fee of $5 was charged, but those unable to pay were never excluded.

Roy Easley, Cal Poly's intramural coordinator, was in charge of the summer recreation program this year. Among those assisting him were Patti Culver, George McFarland, Marty Salgado, Sue Williams, Bill Stavarek, James Bell, Jerry O'Mara, Jan Sweet and Ken McKeever.

The activities for youngsters 7 to 12 included arts and crafts, swimming lessons, films, gymnastics, basketball, volleyball, softball, soccer, tumbling and an assortment of games.

Cloud 9, a pole vault pit, provided free play for the young people. Kids ran atop the giant air bag, falling and giggling. The pit also helped develop the large muscles.

Crash injures Chino driver

A 20-year-old man suffered head injuries Wednesday when a tractor-trailer truck crashed into the side of a van truck in the intersection of State Street and Grove Avenue in Ontario.

Frank D. Martinez, of 247 Marshall St., Chino, was taken to Kaiser's Fontana hospital for treatment of multiple head injuries after the 4:30 p.m. accident. Martinez was held overnight at the hospital for observation following the emergency treatment.

Police said the van, westbound on State Street, apparently failed to yield the right-of-way to the cement truck driven by Gene Lee Milligan, 45, a driver for Mission Ready Mix Concrete Co. in Ontario. Police said Milligan slammed on the truck brakes, but was unable to avoid the accident. Milligan was not injured.

Taking lid off phony shortage

Today's riddle: How is a canning lid like a copper penny?

Both are round and both are made of metal, but the real similarity is that both are being stamped out by the hundreds of millions and any shortage of either is largely artificial.

To say that is to risk the ire of legions of housewives and home gardeners who contemplate seeing much or perhaps all of the fruits of their labors go to waste for want of the simple tin-and-rubber disks and who are convinced that someone is ripping them off — either the home canning supply manufacturers hoping to get higher prices or the food industry, hoping for the same thing.

But as with the penny a few years ago, which speculators hoarded in anticipation of a dramatic rise in the price of copper, the best evidence is that the current shortage of replacement canning lids is simply due to too much anticipatory buying — call it fear and/or greed.

It's true that manufacturers were caught by surprise last year by the unexpected demand for canning supplies. The Agriculture Department estimates that because of rising prices, six million Americans tried their hands at home gardening for the first time.

The 1974 shortage, however, involved both Mason jars as well as lids. This year, plenty of complete canning outfits are available; it's the replacement lids that disappear the minute they hit store shelves.

According to congressional testimony by Nancy Harvey Steorts, special assistant to the secretary of agriculture for consumer affairs, the department estimated a home canning population of 18.6 million in 1975.

Figuring 100 replacement lids per canner, it came upwith a projected need of close to 1.9 billion lids. (Actually, it would be millions less because home canners entering the field for the first time would purchase complete canning outfits and others would freeze their foods.)

The department ascertained that three manufacturers alone would produce over 1.5 billion lids and that the several other manufacturers involved would bring this to about the two-billion mark.

Because of anxiety, however, home canners started asking for lids before they normally would In Florida and other southern states with early canning seasons, tourists bought up the lids in later winter and early spring.

Many manufacturers are working around the clock, six days a week, and some are working around the clock, seven days a week.

"We truly believe that if home canners buy just the lids they need for this season, there would be enough," says Mrs. Steorts. "However, if this hoarding continues, there won't be enough no matter how many lids are placed on the market."

Read now, fight later

Men: Bored with the everyday routine? Sick to death of women's lib? Long for a return of the old machismo?

A new magazine — Soldier of Fortune — may be just the ticket for the Walter Mittys, as well as for the "professional adventurer" for which it is designed.

Publicity describing the charter issue of the magazine promises that "this unique publication will provide the professional adventurer with pertinent, usable, head-knocking, bone-jarring special interest articles, jammed with facts, ideas and techniques, that are slammed across with the devastating impact of a burst from an Uzi (a much respected Israeli submachinegun."

For instance, the first issue contains information on how to become a "merc" — mercenary — in Africa, with an on-the-spot report on type of combat, the enemy, terrain and pay scales.

Other articles tell how to win at underwater knife fighting, how to cope with hoodlums or muggers in the back streets of Chicago, Saigon or London, how the CIA supplied weapons to the assassins of Dominican dictator Trujillo and then betrayed the plotters.

In between wars and rumors of wars, the magazine plans to cover the whole range of action-oriented topics, from chopper pilots in Borneo to oil roughnecks in the Arctic, from crop dusters in Rhodesia to salvage divers in the Pacific.

Those who are interested and who have their wife's permission may write for details to: Soldier of Fortune, Box 582, Arvada, CO 80001.

Editorial misses Reagan's point

Dear Editor:

Your editorial, "Has Reagan Been Asleep", on June 11, misses the point of former Governor Ronald Reagan's speech. Reading it, one gets the impression your writer neither heard the speech nor read the full text.

The editorial said, in part, "The United States, (Reagan) said, "should have sent its B-52's to blunt North Vietnam's thrust into South Vietnam in violation of the Paris peace accords".

Reagan actually said, "Can anyone think for one moment that North Vietnam would have moved to the attack had its leaders believed we would respond with B-52's?" His point: the threat of bombing would have been an effective deterrent.

Congress' War Powers Act of 1973 removed that threat and deterrent to North Vietnam's military aggressiveness. Repeated violation of the Paris accords was the result. In the final months of the war, North Vietnam was moving its troops in large, conventional concentrations on highways. Some four dozen military targets in North Vietnam itself lacked effective air defense against B52's. It's unlikely they would have taken these risks had they faced the threat of bombings.

Although your writer failed to mention that Reagan commented in detail on the growing disparity between the U.S.S.R. and the U.S. in defense preparedness, he did refer to Reagan's concern that the U.S. and its allies need to be determined and strong in the face of any communist challenges. But your writer then makes a quantum jump to this conclusion: "But why must we be strong and tough and determined when it comes to North Vietnam, which could never remotely threaten our national security, and be smiling and friendly and cooperative with China and the Soviet Union, at least one of which has the power to obliterate us many times over?"

If there is anyone in American public life who has insisted that we be wary about dealing with the Soviets or the Communist Chinese, it is Ronald Reagan. He has spoken frequently of the need to deal on a firm quid pro quo basis, especially with the Soviet Union.

So far as North Vietnam not being a threat, it isn't directly, but unless your writer has been asleep for several months, he must surely be aware of the events subsequent to the fall of South Vietnam in the rest of Indochina, Thailand and the Phillipines. The "dominoes" are real and if they aren't actually falling they seem to have acquired a permanent tilt.

For the record, Reagan had this to say about preparedness: "Let us reaffirm that America, for the safety and security of the free world today and for future generations, will never be second militarily to any other nation. That we will retain our bases wherever they are essential to American security and world peace . . .

"And, that if ever again young Americans are committed to fight and die for their country, it will be for a cause worth winning, and they will be allowed to win."

Anguished Baltic diplomats

WASHINGTON — A small omission by President Ford before he departed for Helsinki struck anguish in the hearts of a few aging diplomats in one of Washington's forgotten corners.

The advance text of the President's departing statement carried this passage: "The United States has never recognized the 'Soviet incorporation of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia and is not going to do so in Helsinki."

But when it came time to say the words, Ford left them out. The omission caused deep gloom in the musty old mansions which house the Lithuanian and Latvian legations on Embassy Row.

The document President Ford signed in Helsinki, in effect, accepts the European borders as they existed at the end of World War II. This leaves Russia in permanent possession of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, which Soviet troops occupied in the spring of 1940.

The State Department insists the Helsinki agreement does no such thing. It "will in no way alter the existing U.S. position on the Baltic question," said Assistant State Secretary Arthur Hartman. And a White House spokesman declared that the President still stood by his deleted remarks about the Baltic states.

But the million Americans of Baltic blood have reason to fear the worst. The time is approaching, many suspect, when the fiction of an independent Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia will end. Their 35-year-old dream of returning to a free homeland, they fear, is about to fade away.

For Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, in his relentless pursuit of detente, is unsympathetic to their cause. The only reason the State Department still pays lip service to Baltic independence is to placate the vocal Baltic-American community.

Nowhere is the pathos of this situation more evident than in those gloomy mansions where the last vestiges of the legitimate Baltic governments are wasting away. Legations representing the three nations have been financed since 1940 with Baltic government assets, which the United States froze after the Soviet takeover.

In the sparse old mansions, the fading diplomats try to cover up the gnawing ache by reassuring one another that Gerald Ford won't let them down.

We spoke with the Lithuanian charge d'affaires, a kindly, Old World gentleman dressed in an immaculate but cheap blue suit. He led us through dark hallways, turning on lights as we walked, to a sparsely furnished drawing room "where it's cooler."

An aide, the only other accredited diplomat in the mission, pulled thick, velvet drapes across the drawing room doorway. We were seated on an ancient, pink divan and offered a glass of Boone's Farm Apple Wine.

Above the cold fireplace, in a simple, wooden frame, was a rosary made of bread crumbs by a Lithuanian in a Siberian labor camp. On a small table were proud photographs of the charge d'affaires in the company of Lyndon and Lady Bird Johnson.

The formal conversation began with a toast. "We are optimistic," the old man finally said. "The President and the Department of State have said they won't forget us. Things will remain the same, they say."

We asked about the future of the legation. The old man explained that the State Department would accredit only those diplomats who were serving at the time of the Soviet occupation. "We are old," he said, "and the future representation will be a problem when we begin to disappear."

On our way out, the old gentleman pointed to a multicolored map of Lithuania. It looked as if it had been drawn in a beginners' art class. It was made, he explained, by Lithuanians in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Graham dares jail

Mrs. Billy Graham accused of a crime? Inconceivable! Yet those who know her best are aware that the dainty wife of the renowned evangelist is a scrapper when defending her beliefs.

The end of August, Mrs. Billy Graham will be defending herself in a court of law against the charge of "assault." The issue is larger than the situation which spawned it.

Here's what happened:

When President Ford went to Charlotte, N.C., last spring to celebrate the signing of the Mecklenberg Declaration of Independence, among the 100,000 people who were crowded into Freedom Park were The Rev. and Mrs. Billy Graham.

He, a hometowner, was among those on the bandstand. She was seated in the front row next to the aisle of a reserved section. The walkway on her left, down which the President had just entered, was packed with people standing.

In front of the seats and all around the bandstand children were sitting on the ground. The President was speaking. Suddenly, all eyes turned away from the President and focused instead on a young male demonstrator standing just to the right of Ruth Graham. He was shirtless, barefoot and holding aloft a large cardboard sign which he was waving back and forth.

Ruth Graham, responding as she might to any errant child showing disrespect to the President, stood up, lifted the sign from his hands, sat down and placed the sign under her feet.

When he asked for his sign back, she patted him on the shoulder but shook her head negatively. That was it. Except that police came and took him away and now she is charged with assault. She could be fined. Conceivably she could be jailed.

Ruth Graham has told her lawyer that she would prefer jail if that's what it takes to get a definitive legal answer to this question: Have demonstrators any right to disturb the peace? Obviously, it was a deliberate attempt to disturb the meeting.

The sign the young man was swinging back and forth on one side said, "Don't Tread On Me," an old pre-Revolutionary War slogan. On the other side it said, "Eat The Rich," which some recognize as a homosexual obscenity.

It can be argued that the young man had a "freedom-of-speech" right to demonstrate. Yet, however sadly, history shows that freedoms, misused and abused, necessarily must be curtailed.

Ruth Graham will carry this case to the Supreme Court, if necessary, for a determination of whose rights are prior rights when a protestor waves an offensive anything in your face.

Just in jest

In the interest of curbing our population explosion, it might be a good thing if the railroads continued to disappear from the American transportation scene. I make that observation on the strength of a recent study conducted in Turkey. That study shows, according to zero population advocates, that Turkey's high birth rate can be blamed in part on the railroads. Train whistles, the study concludes, have a definite tendency to waken sleeping couples at all hours of the night — and as a result . . . But on second thought, a study like that couldn't possibly apply here in America. After all, thanks to one of our great scientific discoveries, we really have no need to worry about the side effects of train whistles. All we have to do is "take Sominex and sleep, sleep, sleep."

Lung victims double losers

OAKHILL, W. Va. — (NEA) — "It's worse in the night," says Clarence Sheppard. "You wakes up coughing and you can't catch your breath. You wants to get up but you can't move. You leans over on your side and you doubles up, wondering if you'll die or what. After a while it goes away. You lays back sheezing. Then the heart begins to ache, like you broke a muscle or something, and you wants to get a pill for it but like I say you can't move."

Sheppard, 63, has had silicosis, better known as black lung, for a decade, the result of 20 years as a coal miner sucking in the dust beneath the Appalachian Mountains. He says it was bad enough at first, but grows graver by the year. "I ain't spit clean since I don't know when."

Neither has he walked without getting winded, or gotten through a day without medication. "I prays for relief all the time, you know, but it don't never seem to come."

The relief, in fact, is absent on two fronts: physically and legally. The first is the more unfortunate, but the second the more unnecessary. To alleviate the suffering of black-lunged miners, Congress passed a Coal Mine Health and Safety Act in 1969 and a Black Lung Benefits Act three years later. The intent of the legislation was to seek out silicosis victims and to compensate them for the occupational ruination of their health. That intent, sadly, has not since been carried out with enough energy or sympathy to include men like Sheppard who continue to cough their lives away, uncompensated, often impoverished, and forgotten by a careless nation.

No one can say how many men fit into this category. The United Mine Workers union estimates "several hundred thousand." But if statistics concerning the suffering are lacking, reasons for the oversight are not. Says Bill Cody, president of the Oakhill Black Lung Association: "What it is is an attitude of suspicion. The federal people who run the black lung benefits programs feel that most of the men applying for compensation are freeloaders." Thus the federals have applied stringent rules, sometimes contradictory, often unfair, which force applicants to prove their qualifications.

Proof is not always easy, as Clarence Sheppard's case indicates. When he contacted the disease in 1952 his coal company laid him off with promise of more work when his condition cleared. The company knew the condition would not clear, but by suggesting future wages it kept Sheppard from applying for what then constituted state silicosis compensation. After three years, the elapsed time for state benefits qualification, Sheppard was told he'd never work again. So he was left with nothing, especially not hard proof of his illness.

Even when documentation is available — Sheppard has had numerous Xrays diagnosed as black lung — the federal system is not easily satisfied. The UMW says that of 600,000 claims filed with the Social Security department since 1970, half have been rejected. Some men fail because they are not articulate enough to present their cases, others are denied because of harsh rules disqualifying any from benefits who continue to earn salaries. In some mining areas the coal companies dominate the sympathies of local physicians and lawyers, thus compromising this professional expertise.

It is of course true that many benefits denials are justified for reasons of applicant fraud. The UMW has a fair share of opportunists. Yet the strictures which have weeded out phonies have clearly hindered the legitimates as well. The paperwork alone, says Clarence Sheppard, is beyond the common man's comprehension. "My daughter do all that stuff," he says, adding: "But we don't know how good she do it."

• Apparently, the daughter has not done the paperwork very well at all. For the past five years Sheppard has been regularly denied each appeal of his case. The last resort, he says, is a plea to the courts, "but I don't have the money for that." Nor, perhaps, considering the sound of his cough, and the way these things drag, does he have the time.

Heartline

Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions. It costs you nothing. Write to Heartline, 8514 North Main St., Dayton, Ohio, 45415.

Heartline: Can you tell me a little about your guide to Medicare publication? J.K.

Answer: Yes, it covers all aspects of the Medicare program, including information that you will not find in government literature. It is in easy to understand, question and answer form, like the Heartline column, and it is in easy-to-read large print. It sells for $1.50 per issue and is unconditionally guranteed. If not satisfied when you receive it, send it back to Heartline C.O.D. and you will receive a full refund. This publication also points out some of the problem areas of the Medicare program.

Heartline: Is my retirement pension from my job taxable? T.H.

Answer: Generally, if you do not contribute to the cost of your employee pension or annuity, the amounts you receive each year are fully taxable. If you are not sure, check with your employer who offers the pension.

Heartline: I am retired and receive Social Security benefits. I also work part-time for a company for some extra money, but my employer is taking out Social Security tax. Is this right? Should my employer do this? Mrs. L.Y.

Answer: Yes, employers are liable for Social Security tax on all employees, even Social Security recipients.

Heartline: Why do most of these insurance agents who sell Medicare supplements insist that if you don't take it now, you can't take it because the enrollment period will be over? The enrollment period always seems to end the day the agent knocks on my door. Mr. D.N.

Answer: Many companies do have legitimate enrollment periods because the agents travel large areas on schedule. However, in many cases, this is a "come-on" to get you to enroll right then, because that agent wants or needs his commission right then. It is difficult to know which is which. Do not buy unless you are sure. Pay with a check, never cash. If it sounds like something you need or want, go ahead and take it. In most states, if not all, there are state laws that allow you to return Health and Accident policies within 10 days after it arrives in the mail for a full refund.

Screens a must if you have cat

DEAR DR. MILLER: Leopold is a normal enough cat, as far as I can see. He's not clumsy, nor dingy, but he does this dumb thing I can't explain. He jumps out of the window all the time. He hasn't hurt himself doing it yet, but I'm afraid he will because it's 10 feet to the ground, and I saw him land once and he wasn't all that graceful. In case he has suicidal tendencies, we keep the upstairs windows shut, but why does he act so dumb? It's only from his favorite windowsill, the one he likes to sleep on or just sit on to watch the birds. — F. C.

DEAR F. C.: Leopold's leaps may be a frustrated feline's attempts at flying, but it's more likely he's jumping after something. It could be anything from a windwaftes seed to a butterfuly. Some felines do get so excited from watching airborne "prey" they'll leap into space after it, regardless of their altitude at the time. This is one reason why open windows in cat-containing homes should ALWAYS be screened. Screens also prevent cats from rolling over and out of a window by accident.

Regardless of how surefooted a cat may seem, or how often he may have previously sat on or traversed an open windowsill area, there is always the possibility that he can deliberately or inadvertently become airborne. Crashes at the end of these unscheduled flights account for many injuries and deaths yearly. Even for families friendly with flies, cat-sparing screens are worth their cost.

DEAR DR. MILLER: Mashed mealworms for hummingbirds! Ugh, what a horrible thought, but I would do it if it would help my hummingbird. I just never heard of it before All I ever fed injured hummingbirds was dextrose, sugar and water. What do you think about that mealworm mess? — C. A.

DEAR C. A.: For temporary feeding of a puny hummer, four parts of water to one part of dextrose (preferable to sucrose) is the common mixture, and is suitable on a short-term basis. Adding protein is helpful, however, and squeezed mealworms (also one part) would fill the bill. Mealworm-mashing could be avoided by substituting something like Similac in equal proportion (one part to one part of sugar.)

Acupuncture for arthritis

Dear Ann Landers: My sister has a bad case of arthritis. She suffers a lot and has tried everything from cortisone to gold shots.

A friend of hers who also has arthritis told her she obtained wonderful results from acupuncture. Please tell me, does it work or not? — Wannahelp

Dear Wanna: I'm no doctor, but here is what Drs. Mary E. Moore and Stephen Burke of Temple U. School of Medicine said at the June meeting of the Arthritis Foundation:

"In our controlled studies we could find no evidence that acupuncture helps arthritis."

Because of the severe and unrelenting pain, however, arthritis victims are willing to try anything. Most authorities believe that patients who insist they've been helped are hypnotic-suggestible types who want so desperately to get relief that they psych themselves out. Most of them discover after a while that the relief was temporary. They then go back to the conventional treatment, which is safer and cheaper.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 18 years old and engaged to a wonderful man of 20. We will be married next year. I love Tommy very much but I have many problems I can't deal with.

Last year I became pregnant. I wanted the baby but Tommy's father insisted on an abortion. To keep peace in the family I agreed. Later, I learned that my pregnancy was twins. I became very depressed and even considered suicide. Slowly I emerged from the depression but whenever I see a pregnant woman I hate her, even though she's a stranger on a bus.

Now my sister-in-law is pregnant and I keep hoping she will lose the baby. How can I get over these ugly feelings? I will do whatever you say. — Death Wisher

Dear Friend: You need professional help. And before you say I'm copping out, please read the next letter.

Dear Ann Landers: Four years ago I wrote to you about a problem that was plaguing my life. You told me to get professional help. I figured that was your way of saying, "I don't know the answer."

As time went on, the problem became more severe. My marriage was deteriorating and I was getting all sorts of physical symptoms. I swallowed my prejudices six months ago and DID seek professional help. Thanks to God and my therapist, I am finding my way back.

I am writing to tell your readers what professional help is because I'm sure many of them think as I did, that it means paying a psychiatrist $50 an hour.

Your county mental health society can suggest counseling of high quality which is geared to your ability to pay. What's more, these people really care.

Through therapy I learned I was ashamed to admit I couldn't handle any problems that came my way. I also learned I was trying to block out everything that bothered me as if, by ignoring it, it would go away. So, even though I have 20 years of hang-ups to deal with, I'm thrilled to report I'm making it.

I owe you an apology. What's more, if I had listened to you four years ago I would have been that much further ahead. — Seen The Light

Dear Light: Thanks for turning yourself on. I hope you turn others on, too.

Another opened cereal box?

Do you know what the odds are against polishing off every opened box of breakfast cereal in your cupboard?

Well, we've done it. The hard way. With kids.

For the last 15 years, we have had no less than a dozen or so half-eaten boxes of Fortified Blinkies, Cackly Krunchies, Captain Sugar, Dry Ryes, Toasted Wrigglies, Heap of Honey and Cavity Krispies. Regardless of what you have been told, these cereals didn't snap, crackle, or pop. They just laid there on the shelves year after year and turned stale.

About a month ago, I made an announcement at breakfast. "There will be no more cereal purchased in this house until we eat up every single box that is opened."

They were shocked momentarily. Then, "Why?"

"Because I can no longer afford to support 12 boxes of opened cereal. Take this box of Bloated Oats (I wish someone would). Originally, I bought it for 39 cents. As you will remember, it contained a full-size nuclear submarine, complete with a crew of 120, and secret plans for occupying Connecticut. As you may also remember, I inadvertently ate the sub causing a chipped tooth that cost me $85.

"When the cereal didn't move at our breakfast table, I ran out into the snow one morning in my bedroom slippers to hustle it to some starving birds who pecked once at it then migrated forever. The antibiotics for my cold cost me $13.

"This cereal has also been with us through three moves which, counting the packing, shipping, and crating, cost around $15.42. It also attracted ants in the new house which put me back $2.72 for traps. All tolled, this crummy box of cereal has cost us $116.53. Eat up!"

This morning, we went to the grocery store. At the cereal shelves, they scattered. "Hold it!" I said. "We are all going to agree on one box of cereal." What ensued may set retailing back 30 years.

"I hate Bran Brittles. They're for old people with irregularities."

"And I hate Chock Full of Soggies that turn your teeth purple."

"Let's get Jungle Jollies. They don't have any nutrition whatsoever."

Miraculously, they appeared with a single box. "We've all decided on Mangled Wheat Bits."

"That's great," I said, "any particular reason?"

"Yeah, there's a magic kit inside guaranteed to make anything disappear."

Dr. Lamb

Who owns patients' records?

DEAR DR. LAMB — I suppose this is more of a legal question than a medical one, but I still hope you can help me.

I've been under a doctor's care for some time due to an automobile accident. The first doctor I had at the time of the accident was my family doctor. Since then he has quit practicing and is no longer seeing patients.

I asked his nurse for my medical records so that I could choose another family doctor and thus supply him with any information he might need in the future. She said it was against the law to give me those records, but if I would choose a doctor she would forward them to him.

Is she wrong in refusing me the records, and if so, what should I do?

DEAR READER — She is not wrong in refusing to give you the records, although it wouldn't be against the law. There is a lot of confusion about medical records, but they do not belong to the patient, and they are not something the patient buys like medicine the doctor prescribes. They belong to the doctor or the medical facility that takes care of the patient.

You can look at them as the doctor's notes for his use. In a sense they are a letter from the doctor to any other doctor who must take care of the patient. They are then like mail, personal mail, and are confidential. The doctor is also obligated not to reveal the medical records without the patient's permission. For this reason most doctors will not let your records be sent out to another doctor or to an insurance firm without your written release.

Now, usually medical records can be obtained by legal process, for example to present in a court case if the medical records are important, as in an accident case. Many doctors have been badly embarrassed when their personal notes have been read in court, as you might be if your personal letters were made public.

You really don't have a problem. The procedure when getting a new doctor is to go to the new doctor first. Let him request your medical records, and the former doctor or his office, or nurse in this case, will then send the medical records to him. Since you state your object is to provide your old records to your new doctor, this will meet your stated reason for wanting the records without creating any problems. That is a lot easier than worrying about the legal question of whether the nurse should give the records directly to you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What are adenoids and what can they do to you? Can adenoids cause respiratory problems?

DEAR READER — Adenoids are really specialized lymph glands in the back of the throat behind the opening of the nasal passages into the throat area. They are similar to the tonsils only located up higher in the back of the throat. In young people having a tonsillectomy the adenoids are commonly removed too. That gives rise to the abbreviation T and A for a tonsillectomy and adenoidectomy.

Extra large adenoids can block the free flow of air through the nasal passages and result in mouth breathing. In severe cases this may lead to a change in facial appearance, called the adenoid facies.

Lancelot the peerless was unhappy with both the dummy and the bidding. Dinadan, the worst player and knight, had about as much right to jump to three diamonds as he would have had to challenge Lancelot to single combat.

Of course, if spades broke Lancelot had 13 easy tricks. Seven diamonds would be a cinch against 4-2 breaks in that suit and spades, except that Dinadan would have been playing it.

Anyway, Lancelot was in seven notrump and had to do the best he could. He took dummy's ace of hearts and rattled off four diamonds while chucking his lowest heart.

West let the six of hearts go on the third diamond. He paused a long while before making his next discard and finally let a small club go.

Lancelot saw light at the end of the tunnel. He ran off clubs and sure enough West had been squeezed again on the last club. A heart discard would give the peerless two heart tricks; a spade discard would clear the whole spade suit. Might had triumphed again.

The answer is an unqualified yes. They may make the contract, but you can't wait for sure things. Furthermore, it is possible that your partner will produce a trick and your three clubs and two aces will leave them two down. You would not double without the lead.

Couples prefer boys over girls

What would happen to us if all the couples who want a child could choose in advance whether it was to be a boy or a girl? The laboratory experts are trying to develop that possibility, as you may know. But it would be a calamity, some students of the matter contend. Surveys indicate there soon would be a surplus of far more than 300,000 boys every year. They believe such a medical breakthrough within one generation would lead to marriages in which one wife would have as many as half a dozen husbands. The aforementioned students who call this situation a calamity were male, please note.

U.S. tourist arrested for complaining

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — An American tourist has been detained without charge for 12 days since he went to a police station to complain about a taxi driver overcharging him by 33 cents, informed sources said today.

The sources said the man, whose name was not given, told American authorities who visited him that he had shared the taxi with some Laotians but the driver tried to charge him double what the others paid.

On Dec. 16, 1921, in Kansu, China, an earthquake killed an estimated 180,000 while a cholera epidemic that followed killed a half million.

State is ending egg fees

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Egg Program, which assesses egg producers more than $1 million a year for advertising, promotion and research, will be terminated Dec. 31, says state Agriculture Director Tim Wallace.

Wallace said Tuesday he was acting on the basis of an attorney general's opinion holding that producers who signed a petitition to end the program could not later withdraw their names.

After the petitition was submitted to the department earlier this year, 21 signers asked that their names be removed. That reduced the number of signers to less than the 51 per cent required to end the program.

Producers who average 50 cases a week are assessed 7 cents per case to support the program, administered by the Egg Advisory Board since 1972. Five cents goes for the program and 2 cents for administration.

An agriculture department spokesman, W. Les Portello, said 418 producers now put out 21 million cases a year in California, but are losing money.

Portello said it costs 43 cents a dozen to produce eggs, and they bring an average of only 38-39 cents to the farmer.

Carlin Hooper of El Cajon, who began the drive to end the program, said he opposed it because it is "pure and simple monopoly, undwrwritten by government."

He said he particularly opposed provision which allowed the board to divert surpluses by sales overseas or to charities, and to control production by requiring reduction of flocks.

Airlift may have saved nearly severed foot of boy

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Air Force says an emergency airlift from Little Rock to Louisville, Ky., may have saved a 10-year-old boy's foot.

Officials said the the foot of Ellis Speakman of Phillips County was nearly severed in a lawn mower accident on Friday.

He was rushed to the University of Arkansas Medical Center at Little Rock, but facilities for the microscopic surgery necessary to rejoin veins and arteries were not available.

Air Force Capt. Wayne Haggard of Little Rock Air Force Base and the crew of his C130 transport volunteered to fly the boy to Louisville where the surgery could be performed, even though they had just landed after a 12-hour mission.

An Air Force nurse, Maj. Helen Cooley, accompanied the boy, and within 90 minutes he was in Louisville undergoing surgery.

A spokesman for the Jewish Hospital at Louisville said late Tuesday that the boy was in good condition.

"It's too early to tell what's going to happen. Generally, it looks pretty good, but it's too early to tell.

'Instant tax refund' loans are prohibited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission today ordered a nationwide consumer loan company to stop offering loans under the guise that they're "instant tax refunds."

The FTC order also barred Beneficial Corp. of Wilmington, Del., and its subsidiary Beneficial Management Corp. of Morristown, N.J., from unauthorized use of confidential taxpayer information to solicit new loans.

A key provision of the order prohibits Beneficial from further use of its "Instant Tax Refund" slogan, a registered trade mark which was heavily advertised.

The FTC, in the unanimous decision written by Chairman Lewis A. Engman, agreed with an administrative law judge's opinion last fall that Beneficial's activities were "exploitative, unscrupulous and unconscionable".

The FTC said that the instant tax refund offered by Beneficial was, in fact, its every day loan service. Beneficial operated more than 1,500 offices across the country at the end of 1972, making loans and preparing personal income tax returns.

"The Instant Tax Refund is not a refund at all but a personal consumer loan, with regular finance charges, costs and repayment ...," the FTC said.

"Such a loan is always available to anyone meeting Beneficial's credit standards, whether or not the customer is owed a tax refund by the government, but Beneficial will not make any loan to a person failing to meet its credit standards, even if the customer is due a government refund," the agency said.

There's a lot of money in the "malpractice" business.

But the people who need it most get the least.

When patients suffer medical injuries, they deserve fair compensation.

But the trouble with California's current "malpractice" system is this: most of the money goes to the system, not to the patient.

A federal study shows that for every dollar paid in "malpractice" insurance premiums, as little as 16¢ to 21¢ actually gets to the injured patient. The rest goes for defending unwarranted lawsuits, legal fees, insurance company overhead, investigators, administrators, and so on.

That's one reason for the skyrocketing cost of "malpractice" insurance. Premiums have jumped as much as 300% to 400%.

Some doctors are paying up to $25,000 each year for protection, a cost that ultimately, of course, must be paid by patients.

We urgently need to reform the system, so that the major portion of "malpractice" funds actually goes to patients, not to lawyers and administrators.

As doctors, we have made our views known to the State Legislature, in detail and repeatedly. If you share our concern, we urge you to make your views known to your State legislators. Write, wire or use the form below.

The Doctors of the California Medical Association
731 Market Street, San Francisco, 94103
Carl Goetsch, M.D., President. Frederick W. Ackerman, M.D., Chairman of the Council
Joseph F. Boyle, M.D., Speaker of the House of Delegates

Let's take the profit out of "malpractice."

Provide prompt, fair arbitration.
The present system eats up huge chunks of time and money on court trials that are often unnecessary. Many cases could be settled quickly and fairly by unbiased arbitrators who could protect the rights of both patients and doctors.

Control legal costs.
Often "malpractice" suits are filed by lawyers who agree to take a percentage of the award as their payment. This means that lawyers often end up getting as much as half of an injured patient's award.

We need to eliminate the "contingency fee" system or put reasonable limits on it. Legal fees should be based on the legal work involved, not the patient's injury.

Establish a yardstick for awards.
Juries often make widely differing awards for similar injuries. This is unfair to the patients involved. We need reasonable upper limits to establish fair awards.

Prevent duplicate awards.
Sometimes juries make excessive awards because they don't know the patient is already receiving other payments (for example, from insurance or health plans). These "duplicate" payments boost the cost of "malpractice" insurance.

We need to make sure juries know all the financial facts.

Spread out payments.
Awards should be spread out over the duration of the injury, to be sure that funds will be available for the patient's continuing needs.

Set a time limit.
Often, people are encouraged to file "malpractice" suits many years after the alleged injury took place. To discourage irresponsible lawsuits, we need to set a reasonable time limit for filing "malpractice" suits.

Weed out incompetent doctors.
There are very few incompetent doctors. But there are a few. We need to expand the authority and resources of the State Board of Medical Examiners, so they can quickly weed out those incompetent doctors.

Write your legislators and Senator Anthony C. Beilenson, Chairman, Finance Committee, State Capitol, Sacramento, 95814.

I support the "malpractice" reforms proposed by the doctors of the California Medical Association. Please act on this legislation now.

Repaying theft

Reverend eases his conscience

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The Rev. W. C. Hunter has begun restitution to ease an aching conscience.

Hunter, pastor of the World's Church of the Living God here, said that he stole $3,000 from a food store 14 years ago while "obsessed with gambling and wild ways."

"Unbelievable," said Don Blevins, store manager, when Hunter went to the store and made a $50 payment recently to repay the theft.

"Now I can feel truly free," the minister said. "I can look my people in the eyes and tell them that I have sinned, but I have sought and received forgiveness from God and man."

The pastor said he expected to be arrested when he owned up to the theft. But flabbergasted police told him after consulting the district attorney that he would remain free because the statute of limitations had long since run out on the crime.

Hunter said that when he was 25 he was so obsessed with gambling that he often sold his family's food and furniture — his three children were then young — to get money for card games and whiskey.

He recalled that he worked at the store as a clerk and that one evening a lock on the safe broke and the late manager hid the day's receipts in a produce bin. He said he hid in a storage area until other employes had left and then took the money.

"Man, I felt good with that big sack of money," he recalled. "I bought a half pint of gin, went to a pool hall to celebrate and afterwards went home ... and I rolled the money up bill by bill and "stuck them in Christmas balls.

"That was more money than I had ever seen in my life. Everytime I ran low on money for whisky or gambling, I would just run home and break some of them."

In about one month the money was gone, he said. "I threw it away on the gambling tables and in the alleys."

The metamorphosis of W. C. Hunter, scoundrel, into W. C. Hunter, reverend, began about 10 years ago when he returned from a 72-hour gambling binge to a home devoid of furniture.

"I had been out drinking and gambling and the first thing I saw when I walked in the door was my kids sitting on the cold floor, wrapped in coats to keep warm," he said.

"My wife was sitting there in front of the fireplace throwing old shoes into the fire to keep the kids warm. I can still smell that leather burning.

"She was sitting there on a tin can, throwing them shoes into the fire and reading the New Testament. I got so mad, feeling like God was the cause of my bad life, that I grabbed it out of her hands and threw it into the fire."

He then tried to kill himself by slashing his wrists, he said. "I don't know how, but I was still alive the next morning and I told God then that I was going to dedicate my life to him," he said.

"I had always blamed the other folks for my troubles, the white man, the Uncle Tom, but the fault was within me and God set me free."

Yogi's successor lays it on the line

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy McMillan, new manager of the New York Mets, will make his presence felt in the clubhouse, if not in the headlines.

McMillan, a nondescript second-stringer in the managerial ranks until he was named to replace the fired Yogi Berra, laid it on the line to his players in a team meeting before Wednesday night's 9-6 victory over the Montreal Expos.

"Yogi was a little closer to the players," said Mets third baseman Joe Torre, "but Roy lets everyone know just who the manager is.

"We had a team meeting before the game, and he told us what he expected," Torre said. "He asked us not to do anything different, just win ball games."

McMillan, 46, has been with the Mets as a coach under Berra since 1973 after managing the Mets farm team in Visalia, Calif.

"It's hard to say what I think," said outfielder Gene Clines, acquired in preseason from Pittsburgh. It's my first year here. For most guys, it takes time to form an opinion.

"But one thing," Clines added, "there didn't seem to be any communication between the players and Yogi. Maybe when he benched a guy, he should have taken him aside and had a little chat."

The Mets' star pitcher, Tom Seaver, said he "had felt it coming" for some time. And asked if he anticipated any changes under McMillan, he said: "Well, there's a different man managing. Sure, things will be different...different in a very positive way.

"It's a great thing for Mac," he added.

The squat, 50-year-old Berra is only the second manager to win pennants in both major leagues. But this year, after 3½ years as the Mets' manager, Berra had guided New York nowhere. After ending a five-game losing streak Wednesday night in which they had gone through 55 scoreless innings, the Mets still were mired 8½ games behind the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League East.

Yogi's job apparently had been in jeopardy since last season, when the club wound up in fifth place. "This whole thing is to a degree a hangover from last year," said Mets chairman of the board, M. Donald Grant.

"He told us he was sorry to come by the job in this way," Torre said of McMillan, "and lose a friend from the ball club in Yogi.

"Yogi wass just a great guy, a friendly guy. You never had to say Berra . . . just Yogi, and everyone knew who it was."

Ed Kranepool, the only Met who has been with the club since its first season, had been dissatisfied with the system that saw him platooned at first base with Dave Kingman, Ed batting left against righties and Kingman right against lefties. Kranepool was asked if he felt his .360 batting average, tops in the Mets, would not induce McMillan to increase his playing time.

"I don't know. You'll have to ask No. 51 (McMillan) over there," Kranepool said. "Nobody knows. He came up so fast. Maybe things will change, but nobody knows."

Dodgers lose in ninth, 5-4

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

The decline and fall of the 1975 Dodgers continued Wednesday night at Dodger Stadium.

Andy Messersmith (13-11) lit 30 candles on his birthday cake and the Atlanta Braves blew them out as the fast fading league champions pulled off another come-from-in-front defeat, 5-4.

Messersmith, who seems to make only enough mistakes to get beat, couldn't hold leads of 3-1, 3-2, 4-2 and 4-3. It marked the seventh loss in Andy's last eight decisions.

But prior to Wednesday night, the Dodgers had scored only six runs in the first six losses.

"Andy doesn't have much luck does he," asked manager Walter Alston munching on a hot dog. "This was the first time we got him any runs."

Messersmith's troubles are only a reflection of the Dodger difficulties in general. Wednesday night's loss wound up the home stand in which the local favorites could do no better than play .500 ball (3-3) in six games.

Amazing as it may seem, the Angelenos have played better than .500 ball on only one homestand since May 25. They posted a 4-2 mark in a short six-game stand with the Padres and Giants the first week in July.

On road trips since May 25, they have gone 6-6, 4-7, 2-4 and 3-5. In 67 games played, they have a total of 30 wins and 37 losses overall.

The Dodgers jumped on Blue Moon Odom for three runs in the first inning on a single by Bill Buckner, Jimmy Wynn's infield out, an RBI single by Steve Garvey and Willie Crawford's sixth home run.

Ralph Garr had pumped Messersmith's second pitch of the game out of the park in the Braves' first. It was the sixth of the year for Garr. Dusty Baker rocketed his 15th in the fourth inning to cut it to 3-2.

The roundtrippers were the 18th and 19th of the year off Messersmith who struck out seven and walked two.

Davey Lopes walked and stole his 48th base to lead off the Dodger fifth. Buckner couldn't advance him, but Jimmy Wynn lined a single to center for his 49th RBI and Lopes' 76th run scored and it was 4-2.

But Atlanta came right back in the sixth to cut it to 4-3 on Garr's infield hit, a single by Rod Gilbreath and two infield outs.

It stayed that way until the ninth. Messersmith walked Baker, who was leading off. Ed Goodson singled to left. Larvell Blanks sacrificed advancing the tying run to third and go-ahead run to second.

With first base open and two lefthanded hitters coming up, Alston elected to pitch to Roland Office who had beaten the Dodgers with a ninth-inning homer last week in Atlanta.

Office promptly singled in the tying run. Biff Pocoroba lined to Garvey for the second out. But pinch hitter Dave May bounced a ball between first and second that Lopes knocked down but had no chance to make a play on and the winning run scored.

The Dodgers had only two hits off Odom, Tom House (5-4) and Max Leon after the second inning and only one the last four.

"The ball that really killed us was Garvey's ball in the eighth inning," grunted Alston.

Wynn drew a walk leading off the eighth and Garvey smashed a line drive to Garr. "Ten feet either way and we'd have had a run," said Alston sadly.

But that's the way things go when you've built up reverse momentum as the Dodgers have done.

DODGER DATA — A year ago at this time, Wynn had 24 home runs and 77 runs batted in. His figures now are 16 and 49.

The Dodgers embark on a two-week road trip today flying to New York for a weekend series with the Mets beginning Friday. It'll be Doug Rau (9-9) against Tom Seaver (14-7) Friday night, Burt Hooton (8-9) vs. Jerry Koosman (10-9) Saturday afternoon and Don Sutton (15-9) meeting Randy Tate (4-10) Sunday afternoon.

Messersmith's complete game effort Wednesday was his 14th of the year tying his previous career high set with the Angels in 1971.

Crawford has hit in seven straight games (12-for-28 and .429), batted in six runs and scored six.

Garvey has hit in eight straight (12-for-32 and .375), 16 of his last 17 (25-for-68 and .368) 25 of his last 27 (36-for-108 and .333) and 31 of his last 33 (50-for-138 and .362).

Weiskopf thinks only of PGA

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Tom Weiskopf shrugged off the galling memory of his $50,000 disappointment at Westchester and put himself high today on the list of half-dozen men—no more—he thinks capable of winning the PGA golf crown.

"I have forgotten the tournament last week. It is over. It is final. You can't let a thing like that bug you," said the temperamental stylist who blew a seven-stroke halfway lead last weekend in one of the world's richest events.

"I don't feel I gave it away. After all, Gene Littler had to sink a hole-in-one to win it. I didn't play a loose shot. Maybe it was for the best. If I had won there, I might not be as keen here.

"This is the PGA, a major. I would really like to win it."

The 6-foot-3 Weiskopf, who only a week earlier had beaten Jack Nicklaus in a playoff for the Canadian Open, is one of the strong advance favorites in the field of 38 touring and teaching pros who tee off in their family event today over the long and tough Firestone course, scene of two previous PGAs as well as the American Golf Classic and World Series. It is a 7,180-yard test of brute strength playing to a par 70.

"There is nothing subtle about this course," Weiskopf said. "It is blast, blast, blast. You just get out there and slug. That's the reason I think you can limit the real contenders to a handful.

"Nicklaus, of course. Lee Trevino because he drives so straight. Johnny Miller, streaky but tremendous. Arnold Palmer, still as good a driver as there is in golf. And Hale Irwin, with those good long irons and playing very confidently."

And, it goes without saying— Tom Weiskopf.

Many students of the game regard Weiskopf as the finest striker of the ball on the tour, a player of tremendous natural ability whose success has been slowed by a trigger temper and flashes of immature petulance.

It is a fault that Long Tom doesn't disavow. He admits he is highly emotional but contends he is learning to harness his outbursts. He believes he can play golf as well as anybody. Most people agree.

"I didn't start playing golf until I was 15," he said. "I played most of the other sports and had no one pushing me. I didn't become knowledgeable about the game until about my third year on the tour.

"I only played in two big amateur tournaments. I won the Western the first time I played in it and lost in the third roud in the National Amateur in 1963. I really don't think I learned the game, learned how to win until two years ago."

Weiskopf, now 32, turned pro in 1964. Then followed an erratic, unpredictable period—spurts of brilliance and occasional blowups—until 1973 when he won four U.S. tour events, the British Open, South African and World Series and became Pro Golfer of the Year.

Weiskopf inherited the unenviable role of following close on the footsteps of the great Nicklaus, whose 15 major championships have marked him as golf's all-time great. Three years younger, he grew up in Jack's home town, Columbus, Ohio, and followed Nicklaus through Ohio State.

Weiskopf has refused to let himself suffer from comparison.

"There is only one club in the bag that Jack can play better than I can—the putter," Tom said, during a break in his PGA preparations. "Neither Jack nor I is a great driver, although both of us have that reputation.

"I think I am better than Jack with my long and short irons. The medium irons are about the seme. I am a better chipper—better from 100 yards in—but Jack is far superior as a putter.

"On the greens he is fantastic. I think he's the best putter in golf. And he has a big edge on me in concentration and determination."

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Hale Irwin, the 1974 U.S. Open golf champion, got off to a swift start today in a bid for his first PGA National Championship, firing two birdies on the first three holes.

The 30-year-old Irwin opened with a birdie three on the 400yard first hole over the long, demanding Firestone South course. He also birdied the third hole, a 450-yard par four.

The field of 138 pros was playing in picture-perfect weather. Cool, brilliant sunshine greeted the first starters at 7 a.m. EDT over the 7,180 yard layout that plays to par of 70.

There was a gentle breeze that wasn't expected to affect early play on the first of four days of play. The forecast called for only a 10 per cent chance of rain.

Firestone was playing longer than usual, in the opinion of host pro Bobby Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion and considered a prime contender this time.

"There will be little roll," said Nichols. "We've had to water the fairways so much because of the heat wave we had last week. I'm surprised the greens are as hard as they are, though."

Despite the ideal conditions, Clayton Cole was the lone player among the early starters to match par of 35 on the front nine. The Dallas club pro birdied the second and sixth holes and bogeyed the seventh and ninth.

Defending champion Lee Trevino, Masters titleholder Jack Nicklaus, 1974 U.S. Open champion Lou Graham and Tom Weiskopf, considered major threats to win this year's final Big Four event, were among the late starters.

Post 330 big surprise of legion season

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

You would have been playing a longshot if you had bet earlier in the season that La Verne Post 330 would find itself in the American Legion State Playoffs this weekend, but that's just where the locals are.

La Verne, which finished the regular season with a lackluster 16-13-1 mark, has zipped through three District 18 and three Area 6 playoff contests, winning them all, to earn the trip up north to Yountville.

Post 330 will be shooting to improve on that perfect 6-0 playoff mark starting this Saturday. Eureka, the Area 1 champ, will provide the opposition. The contest is slated for a 10 a.m. starting time at the Yountville Veterans Home field.

Optimism reigns supreme among the La Verne players and coaches at this point, and with good cause. Post 330 has outscored its opponents 37-18 and received five route-going pitching jobs in six post-season contests.

"I'm very confident we will win it," said La Verne manager Earl Bumstead. "This is a super bunch of kids and they have really played their hearts out in the playoffs."

Post 330 coach Dick Salomon echoes those words. "I think the whole team is looking forward to Yountville," claimed Salomon. "We have to feel at this point we can go all the way, an if we don't it's going to take an awfully good team to stop us."

Assistant coach Mark Bumstead also is in agreement. "I think we are going to win it. The competition will be tough but we have played some tough teams already to get this far."

And what about the players?

Ace righthander Bill Bumstead (Earl's son and Mark's brother) feels La Verne has the edge over the other five teams in the tourney due to its pitching depth.

"We have five outstanding pitchers on this club, and they all can do the job," points out the younger Bumstead.

Outfielder and team home run leader Wally Pitts feels the La Verne offense can't be overlooked either. "We have as good a hitting ballclub as any of the other teams we've played so far. I doubt if any of the teams we face up north will hit the ball better than Arcadia or Santa Monica, and we beat both those teams twice in the playoffs."

Granted the locals are confident of victory now, how come the sudden reversal from their 16-12-1 regular season form?

"I don't know, I guess we just started to take things seriously once the playoffs started," Salomon said. "We didn't play that badly before then, but I guess the better level of competition brought out the best in us."

Outfielder Pitts has a slightly different perspective on Post 330's sudden turnaround. "We have made people play our game in the playoffs.

"We are hustling now and playing smart baseball. We aren't standing around waiting for things to happen, we are making them happen."

The togetherness and single-mindednsss toward victory on the Post 330 club is perhaps surprising considering the fact that of the 16-man roster represents players from six different schools.

"We have guys on the club from Bonita High, San Dimas High, Webb School, Mt. San Antonio College, Cal Poly Pomona and Cal Poly San Luis Obispo," noted Salomon, "but there are no problems with the guys getting along. In fact, it's been a group effort all the way, with everybody pulling for everybody else."

La Verne will be flying up to San Francisco Friday, and then will trek by car to Yountville, which is located north of the bay city in Napa County. The team will be staying at the Yountville Vet's Home for the five-day tourney.

Bumstead (7-3) is expected to pitch the State Tourney opener, with Garey Zakem (5-2) ready to go in the second game Sunday.

The rest of the La Verne lineup appears set with Ron Pickenpaugh (.258) at first base, Jim Richards (.309) at second base, Bruce McNaught (.352) at shortstop, Bret Dody (.283) at third, Dave Drury (.321) in leftfield, Jerry Osborne (.267) in center and Pitts (.290) in right. Jerry Baird (.213) and Steve Benoit (.174) are expected to share the catching duties.

Post 330 also learned the rest of the tourney field is set for Saturday's openers. After La Verne tangles with Eureka at 10 a.m., Turlock (Area 2) will meet North Torrance (Area 4) at 1 p.m. Fullerton (Area 5) will face Redwood City (Area 3) in the day's 4 p.m. wrap-up contest.

If La Verne wins Saturday, they will play again Sunday at 1 p.m. If they lose their opener, game time Sunday will be 10 a.m.

The double-elimination tourney will run through Wednesday, with the winner advancing to Pueblo, Colorado for the Western Regionals, slated for August 20-24. This year's national finals are to be held in Rapid City, South Dakota, August 28 through September 1.

Sports briefs

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Broncos of the National Football League traded veteran tight end Billy Masters to the Kansas City Chiefs Wednesday.

The trade was for "past and future considerations," a Broncos spokesman said without elaborating.

Masters is entering his ninth pro football season, joining the Broncos in 1970 in a trade with Kansas City.

Masters is 6-foot-5 and 240 pounds. He has 127 career pass receptions.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers removed rookie outfielder Dan Meyer from the disabled list Wednesday and optioned outfielder Art James to Evansville.

Meyer had been off the roster since July 20 with a hairline fracture of his left foot. James, recalled from Evansville after Meyer was disabled, appeared in three games.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Hockey League champion Philadelphia Flyers have signed two players to multi-year contracts.

General Manager Keith Allen said wingers Bob Ritchie, the Flyers' second amateur draft choice this year, and Dave Kelly, a free agent, reached agreement with the club Tuesday. Terms were not disclosed.

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Ken Fougnier was named lacrosse coach at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on Wednesday.

Fougnier, 30, replaces Al Goodyear, who will remain soccer coach and will assist with the lacrosse team. Fougnier coached lacrosse at a Binghamton, N.Y., high school the past three years.

BRUSSELS (AP) — British boxing champion Joe Bugner will put his European heavyweight title on the line against Belgium's Jean-Pierre Coopmans in Antwerp on Oct. 4, it was announced Wednesday.

The match will take place at the Belgian port's Sportpaleis.

Lions in Senior finals

By CRAIG TRAVIS
PB Correspondent

It seemed like neither team wanted to win.

Pomona Breakfast Lions advanced to Friday night's Pomona Senior Little League city championship finals and will play unbeaten Market Spot at 6:30 p.m. at Ralph Welch Park.

The Lions (the Ted Greene representatives) utilized 16 walks, seven wild pitches, three errors and two clutch hits to edge defending champion Pomona Post 30, 10-8, Wednesday night.

Trailing 4-1, the Lions took advantage of six consecutive walks, an RBI single by Darrell Keepers and Tim Lambert's two-run double to score seven runs in the fourth inning.

But Post 30 came back with two runs in the fifth on Fred Mendevil's run-scoring single and a dropped fly ball by Lion centerfielder Cecil Roberts.

The Pomona Southwest champs (12-5) then knotted the game, 8-8, in the top of the sixth on a single, an error and back-to-back RBI hits by Mike Ramos and "Bear" Mendevil.

Breakfast Lions bounded right back as Brian Turpen and Chester Spirlin walked. Keepers reached on an error to load the bases but Turpen scored on losing pitcher Pat Munford's wild pitch and Spirlin crossed home via Lambert's single to left.

Lambert then pitched a scoreless seventh, in relief of winning pitcher Eddie Cortez, to preserve the win.

The Lions, who have come from behind throughout the tourney, must now win Friday's contest with Market Spot (16-4) and force a second contest between the two teams — to be played Saturday at 10 a.m.

The Lions had to win a special playoff game over the Dodgers of Northwest to earn the Ted Greene runnerspot. Then they dropped the tourney opener to Market Spot, 2-0, despite Lambert's one-hitter. The team came back with wins over Olive Vista, 8-6, V.F.W. 18-7, Pomona First Federal, 8-3 and now Post 30.

But they'll have their hands full as Market Spot will probably start Fred Macias (5-1), who has a 1.20 ERA with 96 strikeouts in 48 innings.

Lambert (8-1) will most likely see mound action for the Lions as he has five innings of eligibility left.

Post 30 took a 1-0 lead in the second as Ramos walked, stole second, went to third on a fielders choice and scored on a groundout.

The Lions tied the game in the host half of the frame on two walks, Darrell Williams' single and a ground out.

Post 30 grabbed a 3-1 margin on Ramos' two-run triple to right in the third and upped the lead to 4-1 in the fourth on two walks, a single and a throwing error to allow Randy White to score.

The first three runs were off starter Brian Turpen while Cortez yielded runs in the fourth (one), fifth and sixth innings (two each).

The Lions got only one run off starter Mendevil but were helped out by 13 walks issued by Munford over the final five frames.

Each side had six hits as Ramos and Mendevil had two hits each for Post 30. Lambert and Harris went two-for-two for the victors.

Chris Evert heads Wightman Cup team

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Chris Evert, the top-ranked tennis player in the United States, heads the U.S. Wightman Cup team announced Thursday by Stan Malless, president of the United States Tennis Association.

Joining the Miss Evert, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., on the squad are playing captain Julie Heldman, 29, Houston; Janet Newberry, 22, La Jolla, Calif.; Mona Schallau, 26, Iowa City, Iowa, and Julie Anthony, 27, Los Angeles.

The Wightman Cup matches, against Britain's top players, will be Sept. 12-14 at Cleveland.

Miss Heldman will be captain of the team for the fourth time. Miss Evert is returning to the Wightman Cup squad after a year's absence. She led the U.S. team to victories in 1971, 1972 and 1973, winning all six of her singles matches.

Hale Irwin, 1974 U.S. Open golf champion, missed by one stroke getting into the 1975 playoff in which Lou Graham beat John Mahaffey.

Swim team ends year

The Red Hill Country Club swim team wound up its 1975 season with a third place finish in the Sunkist League Finals held recently at Glendora Country Club.

More than 400 swimmers from nine different swim clubs were at the league finals. The Red Hill C.C. sent 55 swimmers to the finals.

A new Sunkist League record was set by the Medley team from Red Hill in the 11-12-year-old's division, as Pam Walker, Brian Garrison, Kim Porter and Grant Van Every turned in a 2:19.8 clocking.

In addition, Red Hill team records were set by Scott Walker, Weston Jones and Cheryl Cochran in individual events and by four of the Red Hill relay foursomes.

First Place Sunkist trophies went to Brian Garrison, Suzanne Garrison, Laura Hugleman as well as Jones, Van Every and Scott Walker.

Other Red Hill members placing in the meet were Mike Moran, Gordon DesCombs and Greg Arnold.

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) — Donna Young was hot on the trail of a golf title worth $11,000 today and was carefully watching her rib cage.

"I burst it playing a silly little wedge shot two months ago," said the 30-year-old professional from Los Angeles after shooting a six-under-par 68 to lead the field in the European Women's Open.

"For four weeks I couldn't play any golf at all," Mrs. Young said. "It wasn't until last week that I got back to playing my strokes properly.

"Even now I take 20 or more practice swings and I can feel it grinding a little. When it stops grinding, I start hitting balls."

Mrs. Young played a strange round over Sunningdale's 6,174-yard, par 36-38—74 course. She shot an eagle, nine birdies, three pars and five bogeys.

Mrs. Young said the injury suffered at Baltimore was diagnosed as a torn muscle.

"My caddie was standing 40 feet away and he heard my rib cage pop," she said.

"During my four weeks' layoff, I couldn't even practice putting because it hurt me to bend. I was advised to rest longer, but it was driving me crazy being confined indoors. I just had to get back to golf."

Mrs. Young went into today's second round of the 72-hole tournament two strokes ahead of Sandra Palmer of Dallas, Jane Blalock of Highland Beach, Fla., and Mary Mills of Boca Raton, Fla., who each shot 70.

Joanne Carner of Lakeworth, Fla., Kathy McMullen of Bradenton, Fla., and Catherine De Prado of France were all at 71.

Miss Blalock defied doctor's orders and played with an injured left wrist.

"It hurts much more when I swing badly," she said. "So it makes me try harder."

Angels fall in a rout

CHICAGO (AP) — Consistent Jim Kaat and inconsistent Bill Melton put their act together Wednesday night to lead the Chicago White Sox to an 11-1 victory over the California Angels.

Kaat, afraid he had been losing some of his effectiveness, worked faster than usual and limited the Angels to five hits as he posted his 16th victory agaist nine losses to join Jim Palmer of Baltimore as the winningest pitcher in the major leagues.

Melton, laboring out of a 2-for-28 slump, drove in five and a double and said:

"I've waited 3½ months for a night like this."

Melton's 10th homer of the season, an upper-deck shot which came with two mates aboard, capped a four-run first inning which was more than Kaat needed.

It was Kaat's third bid for his 16th victory and the 35-year-old left-hander admitted he was working faster than usual because "I thought in the last few games I was becoming more deliberate."

Although the game took 2:09 for completion, Kaat, who has become the master of the quick delivery, was on the mound for only 35 minutes and 40 seconds.

Some managers have complained about Kaat's quick delievery but Dick Williams of the Angles is not among them.

"No, I have no complaints," said Williams. "I only wish I had him. He's a great competitor, an outstanding competitor. He's a credit to the game of baseball.

"There should be 25 competitors like him on every ball club if they want to call it major league baseball," said Williams.

Three of the five hits off Kaat were in the infield. Jerry Remy and Mickey Rivers both singled in the first and Remy scored California's only run on a sacrifice fly by Lee Stanton.

Kicking around

With Adrian Mercado & Willy Keo

IT WAS HIGH NOON over Lorbeer Field when the 2nd Annual AREA "G" AYSO Tourney got underway last Saturday. The 1st Annual was held last year in Claremont and this year the hosting fell to Diamond Bar and its hustling soccer community.

THE 7-9 AGE KIDS from Diamond Bar and ACE initiated action with a Division 3 display of energy outburst which culminated in John Stanton's Diamond Bar team overpowering Judy Massagli's fighting ACE squad by 2-0. D.B. goals were by Eric Johnston, Dave Turman, Steve Torti (penalty) and Scott Leger. Diminutive Lane Herrick was capable with head and both feet . . . and hustle.

GAME NO. 2 WAS 10-12 AGE or division 2 with Vic Danzo's ACE boys facing Bob Schroeder's Diamond Bar lads under the watchful whistles of Steve Stevenson and Herb MacDougall. When the dust of combat had cleared the final count showed the Alta Loma/Cucamonga/Etiwanda (and you wonder why we've shortened it to ACE?) combine ahead on a 3-0 count. Mark Danzo scored early for ACE and Richard Jones sent a long cross from the left wing which found a spot high in the far corner for No. 2. Jones scored again out of a loose-ball fray for the final goal. Crisp of ACE showed good all-around field play. One yellow card was issued to an overly-wrought player who kicked the ball far off the field after he had been called on a foul. The ref's request that he retrieve the ball held stronger meaning than the car itself. . . .

THE THIRD GAME of the day was a division 3 encounter between Ken Burleson's Claremont kickers and the Pomona team coached by Steve Muchmore and Charley Hayes. Charley's boy . . . Travis Hayes . . . was Johnny On The Spot and made no mistake when Lamont Moore's tantalizing corner kick came across the goal mouth. Travis tallied. The final story . . . Pomona 1, Claremont 0.

A MOMENT OF EMOTION occurred when Pomona defender Tony Bryant caught a ball in his hands in front of his goal. Tony looked at it . . . then dropped it like a hot enchilada. Seems Tony had previously been a goalie and was resorting to habit when he used his hands. The ending was happy for Tony because the resultant penalty kick was missed.

PROBABLY NO ONE was more relieved than Refs Garland Wilson and Jerry Hancock when the penalty kick went awry . . . unless it was Tony Bryant!

SECOND DIVISION PLAYERS from Pomona and Claremont pitched into the fourth and final game of the day as cooler breezes crossed the Pomona Freeway. The Claremont guns were in evidence as the game progressed and by the time refs Derek Clark and George Tous blew fini there had been two goals by John Baugus, two by Kevin Hillstock and one by Teddy Swick to give Baugus' Claremont boys a clear 5-0 win over Dave Wilbur's Pomona representative.

AYSO'S BIG GUNS GO INTO ACTION Saturday at Lorbeer Field in Diamond Bar when the First Division boys start tourney play. The 9 a.m. clash pits Diamond Bar vs Claremont; and at 10:30 ACE goes vs Pomona.

AT NOON, Div. 3 D.B. vs Claremont; at 1 p.m. D.B. vs Claremont in division 2. The 2:15 game features Div. 3 Pomona vs Upland and the finale at 3:15 is Div. 2 Pomona vs Upland. Lots of soccer . . . take your pick.

* * *

THE NORTH AMERICAN Soccer League couldn't be in more of an uproar. Portland looked like a sure shot for the Western title but got whacked by challenger Seattle last week. The Aztecs meanwhile decided to lose to last place San Jose who have the weakest team in the division but the hardest-rooting fans. The Earthquakes' professional cheerleader, Krazy George, usually arrives by helicopter or kite or some such means and is in charge of igniting the Quake fans against the opposition. This time the Aztec management is protesting the loss, claiming George threw water on the player's bench and generally caused such a bedlam that the Aztec coach couldn't converse with his players in the interim between game's end and overtime play . . . which the Quakes won very suddenly in sudden death play. The protest is pending while the Aztecs try to build steam for their game vs the Biggies of the Western Sector . . . Portland's Timbers . . . who boast six First Division English players in the starting lineup. A good reason they are in first place.

THE AZTECS MUST WIN to stand a chance of beating Chicago out of the remaining wild card berth which will give one of them a place among the eight playoff clubs. Chicago has as big a challenge in meeting the NASL club with the top record . . . the Tampa Bay Rowdies . . . and Chicago has one game more to play than the Aztecs which could be the deciding factor. One thing sure . . . if you lose at this stage of the game you won't make the playoffs. Saturday's Aztec/Portland clash at El Camino College will tell the story out west, and Chicago's games with Tampa and Washington, will be the other end of the seesaw.

AMONG THE NORTH AND EAST division teams Tampa looks good for the East title, and Boston has surged to look serious in North but the wild card opportunities are hanging fire with Toronto, Miami and Washington still clawing away.

PELE'S LATE ENTRY with the Cosmos, in addition to his injury problems which have caused him to miss games, may be serious enough to keep the Cosmos out of the playoffs altogether. It is to be hoped there will be some kind of exhibition effort made wherein Pele can be further utilized so more of our young American players can see him in action.

Wooden night

LOS ANGELES—One of the biggest — and certainly one of the most deserving and heartwarming — combined birthday and retirement parties in UCLA history will be held the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 14, it was announced by J. D. Morgan, the Bruins' athletic director.

The honored guest will be basketball coach John Wooden, whose 65th birthday will be celebrated and the official "moment" of his retirement after 27 years at UCLA will be recognized at this gala affair.

And it will be held in the most fitting of locales, Pauley Pavilion, the home of UCLA basketball where hang the banners of the 10 NCAA championships his teams have won during the past 12 years. The Pavilion gives thousands of his admirers the opportunity to honore the greatest coach in the history of basketball.

"This will be the official salute by a grateful university to coach Wooden for his tremendous contributions to the game of basketball but, in particular, for his magnificent accomplishments as UCLA's head basketball coach," Morgan said.

"We hope it will be an evening for John, his family and the fans to remember. Complete details for the evening's program are now being formulated by a committee and they will be announced in the near future."

James Boys ride again

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Major league baseball had the Alou brothers and the Chino Hills Little League has the James boys.

Pizza Palace, an entry in the Chino Hills loop, has three James on its roster, and, according to the Pizza Palace manager, the three are brothers. The Pizza Palace mentor should know — he's their father.

Manager Allan James has guided his team into the semifinals of the District 23 Tourney of Champions, and his squad's success has had much to do with his three sons. The oldest, 12-year old Bryan, is a pitcher/infielder, 11-year old Jeff is a catcher, and 10-year old Kurt is a utility player.

While it's remarkable enough for a Little League team to have three brothers on the roster, the James trio are all fine athletes as well.

Bryan and Jeff both made the Chino Hills All-Star team this past season while Kurt was not eligible because of his age but still drew one vote from opposing Chino Hills' managers.

Parent James figures to come under some fire for using his three offspring, but such has not been the case.

"I have had absolutely no problem with any of the other kids on the team or any complaints from the other parents. I treat my sons just as I do the rest of the team," the elder James points out.

"I have managed in Little League for five years but, of course, this is the first time I've had all three of my boys on my team. In fact, I decided to manage Pizza Palace because I knew they would be on the squad. So far, it's been an interesting and exciting experience."

Under the guidance, the Pizza Palace nine has rung up a 18-2 season mark going into Friday night's Tourney of Champions game.

They won the Chino City L.L. title by downing Chino American 6-3 last week, and continued to advance in the TOC Monday by defeating Montclair Central 11-6.

"My sons are all good ballplayers, but they are only three of a team of 15 boys," a modest James senior claims. "We would not have gotten this far without the other 12 being pretty fair ballplayers themselves."

The Pizza Palace squad, if victorious Friday, would advance to the TOC championship game Monday against the Ontario City L.L. titlist.

All three of James' sons brought outstanding credentials into the tourney. 12-year-old Bryan fired a no-hitter and four one-hitters during league play and also contributed a .375 batting average in his spare time. 11-year-old Jeff was runnersup to the league's batting champ with a robust .478 batting mark, while 10-year-old Kurt saw time as a shortstop, second baseman and pitcher.

All three are active in other sports besides L.L., Bryan and Jeff having played on a championship Chino Recreation Department youth basketball squad the past two years. They have also been active in football and soccer.

Bryan will be attending Ramona Junior High this fall while Jeff and Kurt attend Glen Meade Elementary School. James and his wife have one other offspring, a three-year-old daughter.

"I don't think she will be a Little Leaguer, but who knows," quipped the proud father.

Ernst will start for Sun

LOS ALAMITOS, Calif. (AP) — With Daryle Lamonica sidelined for at least four more weeks, Southern California Sun Coach Tom Fears has decided to stick with Mike Ernst as starting quarterback.

Ernst was at the helm in the Sun's first regular season game Sunday in which Southern California defeated Portland. In the first game, quarterback Pat Haden, the former USC standout, did not play. On Wednesday, however, Fears said Haden would definitely see action in Saturday night's game at San Antonio.

Lamonica, who jumped to the Sun of the World Football from his starring quarterback role with Oakland in the National Football League, needed surgery to correct a hernia injury sustained in a preseason game. A team spokesman said Wednesday that Lamonica would probably be out of action for another four or five weeks.

Fears said, "The game with San Antonio is a crucial one for us, because they already have a 2-0 record and would have a tremendous advantage if they beat us."

San Antonio is now leading the Western Division of the WFL and Fears said he does not want the Sun to fall far behind the division leaders.

Lahound, Ryan are sidelined

ANAHEIM (AP) — Outfielder Joe Lahoud will be sidelined for seven to 10 days with a rib separation and star pitcher Nolan Ryan has reinjured a groin muscle, a spokesman for the California Angels says.

Team physician, Dr. Jules Rasinski, examined Lahoud and Ryan on Wednesday, after they had flown home from Chicago, where the Angels were closing out a series with the White Sox.

Ryan will miss at least his normal turn in the pitching rotation scheduled for today, the spokesman said, and will be examined over the weekend, when he might return to action.

Also sidelined are pitcher Frank Tanana, first baseman Bruce Bochte, and catchers Bob Allietta and Andy Etchebarren, all suffering from hand injuries.

Reds laughing all the way to the pennant

By Associated Press

The Cincinnati Reds are laughing all the way to the National League West pennant.

"We're using all our players these days—it keeps everyone happy," said Manager Sparky Anderson after his muscled Reds walloped the San Francisco Giants 12-5 Wednesday.

One of those Sunshine Boys that Anderson used against San Francisco was Darrel Chaney. Subbing for Dave Concepcion at shortstop, Chaney collected three of the Reds' 20 hits and embellished his reputation as a Giant killer.

"I've got more than half my hits this season off Giants' pitching," said Chaney, who is batting .409 against San Francisco. "I've played more games against the Giants than anyone else, but I think that's just because of the circumstances, not because of the way I've hit against them."

Coupled with the Los Angeles Dodgers' 5-4 loss to the Atlanta Braves Wednesday night, the Reds improved their mountainous lead in the West to 16½ games—their biggest of the season.

"They're the best club I've seen in some time, probably the best in this league since the Dodgers had Sandy Koufax (in the early 1960s)," said San Francisco Manager Wes Westrum.

In the other National League games, the New York Mets beat the Montreal Expos 9-6 in a rain-shortened affair; the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 and the San Diego Padres turned back the Houston Astros 6-1. The Chicago - Philadelphia game was rained out.

Chaney knocked in three runs with two doubles and a single and Cesar Geronimo belted a pair of triples to lead Cincinnati's high-powered attack.

The Reds, who swept the three-game series with the Giants, had nine extra base hits in their offense. All nine starters collected at least one hit and drove in at least one run as the Reds won their fifth game in a row and the seventh in their last eight.

Giants' starter Jim Barr was battered for nine hits and five runs in three innings.

Tony Perez' 16th homer triggered the onslaught in the second. Chaney's double and Bill Plummer's single made it 2-0 in the second. Doubles by Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Dan Driessen and Geronimo's triple topped the three-run third.

Chaney's three-run double did the big damage as the Reds added five runs in the fifth. Winning pitcher Jack Billingham, 12-5, belted a run-scoring single.

Mets 9, Expos 6

Del Unser's three-run double highlighted a seven-run sixth inning and powered New York over Montreal in Roy McMillan's managerial debut. The Expos scored two runs in the ninth on a Mets' error and a bases-loaded walk and had nobody out when rain stopped play.

The Mets scored twice in the fourth inning, ending a 25-inning scoreless drought, then erupted in the sixth on three straight doubles, Unser's with the bases loaded, five walks by three Montreal pitchers and two Expos' errors.

McMillan was named manager of the Mets earlier Wednesday after Yogi Berra was fired. The new manager had held a one-hour meeting with the team before the game.

Cardinals 4, Pirates 2

Buddy Bradford hit a home run and Ken Reitz tripled to spark a three-run St. Louis fifth and lead the Cardinals over Pittsburgh. St. Louis starter John Denny, 6-3, surrended only two singles to the National League Eastern Division leaders before running into trouble in the eighth inning, when the Pirates scored their only run.

Al Hrabosky relieved the young pitcher with the bases loaded and let in a run on a wild pitch and another on a grounder before cutting short the Pirate rally.

Padres 6, Astros 1

Left-hander Randy Jones pitched a two-hitter and posted his 15th victory as San Diego defeated Houston. Jones, 15-6, a 22-game loser last year, lost his bid for his seventh shutout of the year in the third when Bob Watson led off with a triple and scored on Cliff Johnson's infield out.

The Padres raked Houston right-hander Larry Dierker, 9-12, for four runs in the first inning after Johnny Grubb doubled and took third on Tito Fuentes' single.

Gene Locklear doubled home a run, one scored on a passed ball and Ted Kubiak singled home two more. Hector Torres hit a bases-empty homer off Dierker in the third inning.

SAFE, NO, OUT! Dodger's Steve Yeager slides into second base as ball pops out of glove of Atlanta shortstop Larvell Blanks. Umpires said Blanks was in process of making throw.

American League

Races tighten up

By Associated Press

Quick! Call a locksmith! Kansas City and Baltimore are beatin' on the doors, opening up what used to be called a couple of locked-up pennant races.

Just a few days ago, Oakland's three-time world champion A's were supposedly running away from Kansas City and the rest of the American League West with a 10-game lead.

Likewise, the Boston Red Sox owned an imposing 9½-game bulge over Baltimore in the East and seemed ready to run away with the division title.

Today, though, those so-called runaways have been slowed to a crawl and both the Royals and Orioles are putting on charges that could change the rest of the season from play-out-the-schedule games to scramble-all-the-way days.

Oakland's potent bats were all but muffled Wednesday night by Gaylord Perry, who gave up just seven hits—the only damaging one a too-late two-run homer by Joe Rudi— and the Texas Rangers rode Dave Moates' three runs batted in to a 5-2 victory over the A's.

That, coupled with Kansas City's 4-3 triumph over Minnesota—compliments of Tony Solaita's three-run homer that capped a four-run fourth inning—slashed Oakland's lead over the Royals to 6½ games.

Boston, coming off two straight losses to Baltimore, seemed on the verge of taking it on the chin again in Milwaukee, trailing 2-1 in the ninth inning. But a four-run outburst capped by Jim Rice's two-run single made the Red Sox 5-2 winners.

Nevertheless they still saw they're lead over Baltimore trimmed to seven games. The Orioles jumped all over Detroit, sweeping a twi-night doubleheader 4-2 and 8-2, extending the Tigers' losing streak to 11 games.

In the other two AL games, Cleveland beat New York 5-3 and Chicago bombed California 11-1.

Moates' two-run single capped a three-run second inning that made Perry's job easy against the A's, then Moates added a sacrifice fly for the Rangers' final run in the eighth.

"The dog days are here," Oakland superstar Reggie Jackson muttered. "We've had streaks like this before. We've lost five games in our last seven starts but the thing about this club is that you can lose a bunch of games and still be 6½ games in front. We're not worried about Kansas City."

Royals 4, Twins 3

It wouldn't be a bad idea if he started worrying, though. The Royals have won their last four games and seven of their last nine. "These guys are making a genius out of me," said Manager Whitey Herzog, who succeeded Jack McKeon only a few weeks ago. "I'd like to see them continue it another seven or eight weeks. This club has talent. It's capable of overhauling Oakland."

Kansas City overhauled the Twins after Minnesota had built a 3-0 in the first two innings. Amos Otis walked with two out in the fourth and scored on John Mayberry's double, then George Brett walked and Solaita belted his 11th homer.

Red Sox 5, Brewers 2

Rick Burleson's double and Denny Doyle's single gave the Red Sox an eighth-inning run, their first in 18 innings, before they went to town in the ninth. Cecil Cooper's double and Rico Petrocelli's single tied it and, after Rick Burleson singled, Dwight Evans walked to load the bases and Doug Griffin put Boston ahead with a single to left. Rice's single to right capped the burst.

"Any win is satisfying," said Manager Darrell Johnson. "It's always a little better when you come from behind—but we've done it many times. We'll probably do it some more."

Petrocelli wasn't quite so matter-of-fact as Johnson. "It was one of the most satisfying of the year for us, absolutely!" he crowed. "It was especially satisfying because we had just lost two to Baltimore at home...Baltimore still has to catch up with us."

Orioles 4-8, Tigers 2-2

Lee May doubled for a run and scored on Jim Northrup's single in a decisive two-run first inning that gave Baltimore its first-game victory, then Don Baylor had two singles, a double and a triple, stole three bases, scored two runs and drove in one to make it a sweep of the Tigers. The Orioles have won 18 of 24 games and swept four twinbills since the All-Star break.

When asked about the Birds' annual August drive, Manager Earl Weaver coyly replied: "There's a reason for that. I'll just keep it to myself." But he added: "Well, we got down to a .229 team batting average. Now we're hitting the ball. That's all there is to it."

Indians 4, Yanks 3

Rico Carty hit a three-run homer for Cleveland in the sixth but the big difference was reliever Dave LaRoche, who came in with the bases full of Yanks and nobody out in the eighth and struck out the side.

"He took the bats out of their hands. They didn't even touch one of those pitches," said Indians' Manager Frank Robinson. New York Manager Billy Martin wasn't smiling, though. It was, he said, a tough game to lose, "especially when you have 'em on the ropes like that."

White Sox 11, Angels 1

Bill Melton knocked in five runs, three with a homer, and Jim Kaat posted his 16th victory with a five-hitter in the White Sox' rout of California. Melton slugged his 10th homer to cap a four-run first inning, singled for a run in the second and doubled one home in the eighth.

Ashe still winning

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Mexico's Raul Ramirez and Cliff Drysdale of South Africa joined the ranks of upset seeded players Wednesday and No. 2 Arthur Ashe polished off his first opponent in the $150,000 United States Clay Courts tennis championships.

Top-seeded Guillermo Vilas of Argentina and John Whitingler, of Neenah, Wis., were to square off in the featured night match. Brian Gottfried of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., was to meet Wojtek Fibak of Poland in another night contest.

The fourth-seeded Ramirez lost his second-round match to Richardo Cano of Argentina, 6-3, 7-5, and No. 13 Drysdale was eliminated by Bob Carmichael of Australia, 7-5, 6-3.

Andretti looking to overtake Redman

"It's a horse race again."

That's Mario Andretti's assessment of the Formula 5000 series . . . and, in particular, his "horsepower" duel with Britisher Brian Redman.

It's possible, in fact, that Andretti can overhaul the defending champion in Sunday's fifth race at Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course in Lexington, Ohio.

Little more than a week ago that didn't seem possible — except in Andretti's mind.

After three races, Andretti had fallen 55 points behind Redman — 96 to 41. The series over two seasons had become an alternating sequence of Mario winning and Redman running second or Redman winning and Mario not finishing at all. Redman's Lola T332 was bulletproof.

Andretti, whose luck has been erratic, maintained his optimism. Before last week's race at Elkhart Lake, Wis., the star of the Viceroy Racing Team said: "He (Redman) can't always be lucky. He's got to fall out sometime and that will put me right back in the picture."

And that's what happened.

In a heat race, Redman spun off the course and broke a suspension piece, putting him back in the pack for the 100-mile main event. And in that one he lost a tire — and nearly a lap for repairs — to leave him in eighth place, worth only three points.

Meanwhile, Andretti's Viceroy Lola "was beautiful out there," as Mario described its performance on the hilly, twisting four-mile course at Road America.

Andretti won the first heat, set a qualifying lap record of 117.9 m.p.h., and was "homefree" in a wire-to-wire victory in the 100-miler.

The effort was worth 36 points and narrowed the gap between himself and Redman to 22 points — 99 to 77.

There are still five races to go which means that Andretti's teammate, Al Unser, also is in range of the title. Unser stands third with 53 points.

Unser, who is putting in his first full season on the road racing circuit this year, has acclimated himself. That was obvious by his performance at Road America. He finished sixth the "hard way."

The two-time Indianapolis 500 winner was eliminated early in a qualifying race by a rocker arm problem with his Chevrolet-powered Viceroy Lola. Some fast work by his crew got him into the 100 miler.

Unser, who had to start 26th among 27 cars, closed 20 positions in a brilliant run for sixth place and five points.

"I'm feeling more comfortable every race," he said, referring both to his adjustment to his car and the road courses.

After mid-Ohio, the Formula 5000 series will move to Atlanta, Aug. 31; Long Beach, Calif., Sept. 28; Monterey, Calif., Oct. 12, and Riverside, Calif., Oct. 26.

Petty doesn't feel so rich

LONG POND, Pa. (AP) — Richard Petty says he doesn't feel like a millionaire, much less a multi-millionaire.

"Most of what I've won over the years has gone back into my racing," said Petty, as he prepared for the 672nd NASCAR race of his 18-year career.

"I just pay myself a salary out of what I win," he added.

To be sure, racing has allowed Petty to provide comfortably for his family's needs.

"I'm thankful to racing for that," he said. "Fortunately what I like to do the most also makes the most money. I've always said the competition in racing is what I love, but the money is nice too."

Some of Petty's winnings have gone into investments, including an interest in a racially integrated bank at Charlotte, N.C.

"Yeah, we even have a Yankee on the board of directors," quipped Petty, a proud citizen of Level Cross, N.C.

Petty, 38, has reached a point in his career where, like baseball's Hank Aaron, he breaks records every time he competes.

His victory total of 180 averages out to better than a win every fourth start. He's finished in the top 10 almost three times out of four. His victory total is more than twice as many as any other NASCAR driver.

Petty also holds records in areas like miles run, starts, consecutive victories, major speedway victories and laps led.

"Sounds real impressive, doesn't it," chuckled the fivetime stock car champion. "It's getting to the point where I've been around a while."

Thought of retirement?

"Oh I'll retire when I decide I want to," Petty said evasively. Asked when that might be, he said: "Not this week."

His retirement may not be anytime soon, realistically. There is talk Petty will still be around if his 15-year-old son Kyle someday tries his hand at his father's profession.

"He's just getting into high school football now," Petty, a devoted father of four, said. "We all went over and watched him at a softball game the other night. It was really a lot of fun.

"Besides racing, I think I get the most satisfaction out of watching my kids grow."

In every sense of the word, Petty Enterprises is a "family" operation.

The team includes his father Lee, one of NASCAR's pioneer drivers,

Midget racing at Irwindale

IRWINDALE — The USRC midgets return to Speedway 605 on Friday night, the date replacing the original August 2 race.

Point leader Roy Cook Jr. remains the favorite, though his previous 605 venture was an ill-fated one. Cook had a big lead in the main event when he was KO'ed by mechanical problems in the Clancy Wright VW.

Several drivers who competed in the USAC Rocky Mountain series last week will be back in action locally on Friday night. They include Chris Cumberworth of Santa Ana, Buddy Irwin of El Toro, and Roger Mears of Bakersfield.

The Joe Lynch VW, which won two of the USAC races with Ken Nichols at the wheel, will be competing with Danny McKnight doing the driving.

Also entered are Dave Stoltz of Pomona, winner of the July Speedway 605 main event, Jeff Heywood of Mission Hills, Jim Watson of Sun Valley, John Anderson of Anaheim, Rob Bogan of La Puente, Bill and Larry Lloyd of Whittier, Don Miller of N. Hollywood, Pete Bittrolf of Las Vegas, "Chunky" Koster of Pomona, Ace Noffsinger of Cypress, and Lowell Voss of Westminster.

Voss, a charter member of USRC, notched his first midget main event win at Corona on July 26 in Luther "Mud" Davison's big Pontiac Tempest.

Time trials begin at 7 P.M. and the trophy dash is slated for an 8 P.M. green flag. Four heat races, a semi main event and a 30 lap feature follow.

Southland racing

IRWINDALE — Open wheel racing returns to Irwindale Friday night when the United States Auto Club midgets take over Speedway 605 for high speed racing competition. The program will include eight events and is slated to begin at 7:30 p.m. with a trophy dash. Heat races, semi and 30 lap main event round out the evening. Limited stock car competition is scheduled for Saturday night, with the trophy dash set to open the evening's action at 7:30 p.m. Street stock and figure-eight racing will top off Saturday's competition.

SAN BERNARDINO — A double-header program for late model stick cars and hobby stock cars is scheduled for Saturday night at the Orange Show Speedway. Popular street stock car racing will be an added attraction. Saturday's time trials start at 6 p.m.

IRWINDALE — A special invitational field of 16 Top Fuel dragsters, 16 AA/Funny Cars and 16 Pro Gas Eliminators head the bill Saturday at Irwindale Raceway for the 10th Annual Grand Prix of Drag Racing. Gates open at noon with practice runs filling the afternoon.

VALENCIA — Indian Dunes Park will offer a triple header racing program Friday night. Friday's action will include the American Motorcross Enterprise 40, the National Mini-Cycle Association's 32-race card plus short track cycles on the dirt oval. Indian Dunes opens at 7:30 a.m. every day.

GARDENA — The NASCAR "Fireball 500" Open Competition Super Stock 500-lap race is slated for Ascot Park this Friday and Saturday. Four 25-lap qualifying heat races are scheduled for Friday night, with the first race going on at 8 p.m. The 500-lapper is set for Saturday evening at 7 p.m. Figure 8's, Ovals and a Demolition Derby are set for Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Gardena facility.

SAUGUS — Twin Monzas plus a destruction derby highlight the Saugus Speedway card this Saturday evening. The twin Limited Stock Monza will pit Ford vs. Chevrolet, while the twin Figure 8 Monza will feature past year's Figure 8 champion drivers. Over 60 cars are expected to compete in the Saugus Speedway Destruction Derby which will wind up the evening of racing. Action starts at 8 p.m.

MOORPARK — Dirt-track motorcyclists will be featured in a motocross double-header Sunday at the Valley Cycle Park in Moorpark. First event in both events will get away from the gate at 9:30 a.m.

HISTORY LESSON — Members of an expedition called "Operation Jumbo Trek" climb aboard elephant to depict Hannibal's mode of travel. The British army's Depot Regiment at Aldershot will follow the route taken by Hannibal across the Alps in 218 B.C. But instead of using elephants, the British troops will negotiate the route in trucks and by foot.

New center studies reports on UFOs

NEW YORK (AP) — A new UFO Study Center in Evanston, Ill., is gathering nationwide reports on unidentified flying objects, Dr. J. Allen Hynek said today.

Dr. Hynek, professor of astronomy at Northwestern University, and long interested in UFOs, said police departments across the country had been invited to telephone in reports of any "sightings," using a toll-free switchboard manned around the clock.

"The UFO Study Center came into existence because a growing number of qualified scientists, engineers and other professionals have long believed he UFO phenomenon to be worthy of investigation and decided that positive action should be taken to end a quarter-century of misunderstanding and misrepresentation," he said.

"More than 15 million Americans believe that they have sighted UFO phenomena, and these essentially similar reports persist year after year.

"With the cooperation of the police, the FBI and the Civil Defense Agency, the center now provides the organization and personnel to study the problem" of so-called "flying saucers."

Dr. Hynek, the director, set up the center in cooperation with scientists from a dozen U.S. universities.

He said he doesn't support the idea that UFOs are spacecraft from other worlds because "there are too many things against it. It seems ridiculous that any intelligence would come from great distances to do reportedly stupid things like stopping cars and frightening people. And there are far, far too many reports."

The center will permit people to report "sightings" without publicity, and will analyze reports and the entire phenomenon, he said.

Dr. Hynek was a consultant to the Air Force's Project Blue Book which for 21 years kept record on reported sightings. The Air Force ended the project in 1969, saying that neither national security nor science was being served through it.

Earlier that year, the so-called Condon report, commissioned by the Air Force at a cost of $500,000, concluded that "further extensive study of UFOs probably cannot be justified" scientifically.

The panel of scientists making that report was headed by Dr. Edward U. Condon of the University of Colorado.

Panel will aid women

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The County Board of Supervisors here has voted to set up a 10member commission on the status of women.

Membership of the group approved unanimously recently will be appointed by the supervisors. Staff will be provided by the County Human Resources agency, a spokesman said.

The commission will be mandated to "identify needs and problems of women" affected by public policy decisions and to eliminate sex discrimination and prejudice, supervisors said.

An alloy is a solid solution of two or more metals.

Unemployment insurance fund low

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's unemployment insurance fund will run dry late next year if the state's jobless rate remains high and fund income does not increase, state officials precict.

Employment Development Department forecasters said Tuesday they expect the fund to be at least $100 million in the red by late 1976 if the drain on unemployment insurance continues at current rates.

"Right now payments far exceed income," said department spokesman Bob Nance.

He said the department believes it will need at least $3 billion for unemployment payments this year and next, but expects to have only $2.9 billion on hand.

"We are not predicting gloom and doom for 1977, but we are not predicting the best of all worlds for 1976. So obviously something has to be done," Nance said.

He said the department expects unemployment to average 8.8 per cent next year, down slightly from current levels.

Last month unemployment hit 10.1 per cent with 983,400 job-seeking Californians out of work.

Catalyst role

A catalyst is a substance that alters the rate at which a chemical reaction takes place but which itself remains unchanged.

Cucamonga board approves school budget; tax rate rises 14 cents

A budget figure of $2,167,020 for the 1975-76 school year has been approved by the Central school board in Cucamonga.

As a part of the budget, the board adopted a tentative salary schedule for teachers, which will be subject to modification during negotiatons with the teachers. The salary schedule to be utilized will be the same one in operation at the close of the 1974-75 school year.

The board also approved an increase of 14 cents per $100 of assessed valuation in the tax rate. The rate goes from $2.32 to $2.46.

The new budget is $217,965 larger than the $1,949,055 budgeted for fiscal 1974-75. It reflects a beginning balance of $18,568 and appropriations for contingencies totaling $173,775.

In other action, the board:

— Approved retroactive pay increases not yet agreed to from July 1, 1975 for 1975-76 to classified employes of the district.

— Approved the district's contract with the neighboring school districts of Mt. Baldy and Mountain View for their use of the West End Curriculum Materials Center.

— Agreed to allow district officials to sign a two-year lease for the district offices at the rate of $375 per month. The offices are to include newly added space for the housing of records and a conference room.

— Moved that officials may begin accepting authorized bids for the installation of new carpeting and blacktop working.

— Approved an agreement with the county office for the education of the physically and mentally handicapped for use by district students of county facilities.

— Approved an agreement for office machine maintenance with Stockwell and Binney.

Donald R. Sperry is superintendent of the Central school district, which administers two elementary schools with kindergarten through fifth grades and one intermediate school for sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Projected enrollment for 1975-76 is 1,900.

Claremont group starts library book drive early

Friends of the Claremont Public Library are starting early to collect books for their annual book sale at the library Oct. 4 at 10 a.m.

Book sale Chairman Hilda Parks said that the Friends are seeking hardbacks and paperbacks in good condition, as well as dictionaries and foreign books. A barrel will be placed in the library.

She said that the sale annually handles many books printed in Indian, Arabic, Japanese and Spanish, and that they are grabbed up by college students. Children's books are also popular.

Mrs. Parks said that persons who have boxes of books for the sale may phone her at 624-2478, and that she would pick them up.

The Friends have used the proceeds to buy equipment such as patio furniture, phonographs and record albums for the library, "items that the county will not buy for us," she said.

Florists pick 'Flowers'

HONOLULU (AP)-The name may have been persuasive when the 3,500 delegates to the Florists' Transworld Delivery convention elected officers Tuesday.

Donald Flowers, a florist from Randallstown, Md., was elected president of the 14,500-member organization for the next year.

What's going on around here

FOR SENIOR CITIZENS — The Ontario library is offering assistance for senior citizens in filing for their property tax exemptions. Filing deadline is Sept. 2.

Those wanting assistance in completing the forms may phone Mrs. Belin Quesada at the library between 9 a.m. and noon weekdays for an appointment.

Volunteer tax consultants will be available for appointments at the library from 1 to 4 p.m. on Aug. 11, 18, 25 and Sept. 2. Senior citizens are asked to bring copies of their 1974-75 tax bills, proof of payment and proof of age. Copy machines are available at the library.

NEW OFFICERS — Bill McGurty, executive assistant for Southern California Edison Co., has been elected president of the Ontario International Little League. He will take office next month, succeeding LeRoy Saenz.

Other officers are Joe Villalobos, first vice president; Dan Rodriquez, second vice president; Jack Robson, third vice president; Robert Farris, secretary; Gordon Price, league treasurer; John Cunningham, senior division secretary-treasurer; Paul Bernard, major-minor division player agent; and Joe Molles, senior division player agent.

McGurty, who served as president in 1967, will seek to form 27 teams next year in the minor, major senior and big league divisions. The league involves youngsters residing in the central core of Ontario.

ONTARIO LIBRARY — Activities at the Ontario library next week include:

Monday, senior citizens, 1 to 4 p.m. and modeling, 6 to 8 p.m.; Wednesday, Associated Artists, 9 a.m. to noon and family film, 7 p.m.; Thursday, career modeling, 6 to 8 p.m.; Friday, adoptive family, 8 to 10 a.m. (for families with adopted children or planning to adopt a child), and knitting, 11 a.m.; Saturday, modeling, 2 to 4 p.m., senior citizens film, 2 p.m. and career modeling, 4 to 6 p.m.; Sunday, children's film show, 3:30 p.m.

ELECTED TO OFFICE — Louis J. Cassani, a Claremont insurance executive, has been elected regional vice president for the California Association of Life Underwriters.

Cassani, manager for Prudential Insurance Co., is past president of the Pomona Valley Association of LIfe Underwriters. As vice president, he will coordinate the activities of more than 600 life and health insurance professionals in four associations extending from Covina through San Bernardino and Riverside counties.

ELECTED TO OFFICE — Pegasus Buchanan, local poet, was re-elected to a second term as state president of the California Federation of Chaparral Poets. Her husband, Barney Barnum, manager of the Claremont Golf Course, was elected for the first time as state treasurer.

Elected as a vice president was Marvin Miller, an actor who appeared in "The Millionaire." The federation was established in 1940 and now has 700 members and 35 chapters in California.

Farmers don't like metric

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — The metric system apparently rates low with farmers, if one is to judge from a recent poll conducted by Wisconsin Agriculturist, a farm magazine.

Farmers were asked: "Since most countries of the world now use the metric system, it has been suggested that we adopt it." Only 17 per cent said we should adopt it. Sixty-three per cent were against it and 20 per cent were undecided.

THE ICE PICK.
(SMIRNOFF AND ICED TEA.)

We discovered long ago how well iced tea and Smirnoff go together. But we hesitated to recommend it on the grounds that you might find it too much trouble, steeping the tea and all that fuss.

Now it turns out there are lemon-flavored iced tea mixes on the market that work just fine. And you don't even have to boil water.

Therefore we invite you to try the Ice Pick, a tall, tasty summer drink that's easy to make after all. We only ask that before you serve it, you let everyone know that they're not just drinking iced tea.

THE ICE PICK.

To make an Ice Pick pour 1½ oz. Smirnoff into a tall glass of ice. Fill with lemon-flavored iced tea.

Smirnoff
leaves you breathless.

Jewish camp makes 'fighters' out of youngsters

GERMANTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — An unusual summer camp near this Hudson River community takes pride in the number of youngsters who don't last the season, offers no recreation and promises to turn its charges into "fine street fighters."

The facility is Camp Jedel. It takes its name from the militant Jewish Defense League, a New York City-based organization which advocates retaliatory violence for attacks on Jews and has taken credit for the bombing of Soviet embassies.

The camp is coed and the fee is $500.

Camp Jedel cautions that not every youngster will be able to keep up with the program, which is intended to simulate that of an Israeli kibbutz. It includes intensive karate and rifle training, 20-mile hikes, no recreation — although the students are permitted one hour each night to write letters home — and a kick in the stomach from an instructor if you fake your pushup exercises.

David Fisch, who runs the camp, notes that 10 of the 50 youths who began the eight-week program in late June have already dropped out. "And we're hoping for another 15 per cent dropout," he says.

He compares the regimen to a baseball camp in which the less skilled are "cut" at regular intervals.

The JDL ran a similar summer camp in the Catskill Mountains from 1969 to 1971. Last May, it bought a former regular summer camp near this community, 45 miles south of Albany.

About 40 youths, ranging in age from 13 to 24, have survived the first weeks. About half are from New York City or its suburbs, although others hail from as far away as San Francisco and Miami. They dress in green Army fatigue uniforms and wear the skullcaps of Orthodox Jews, some adorned with the JDL slogan "Never Again," a reference to the Nazi holocaust.

Visitors to the camp, which consists of a dozen cabins and a large main building situated on a few tree-shaded acres, are greeted with suspicion and silence.

"I'm not authorized to give out any information," said a teen-age guard at a gate when questioned by a reporter.

Fisch is 21, a recent graduate of Columbia University who plans to become a rabbi and eventually settle permanently in Israel.

The JDL, he said, is expressing "a new Jewish concept, which we contend is the old, original Jewish concept ... a Jew will never again run away, never again be a punching bag.

"These kids come out fine street fighters at the end of the summer," he said, capable of "physically clobbering any anti-Semite who comes their way."

The JDL sought a summer camp away from the Jewish-oriented resorts and camps of the Catskills, where Jews practice what Fisch called "gastronomic Judaism, which is pretty much Judaism of the stomach." Too many victims of "the cancer of assimilation" into American life, he said.

Venice, Italy, is often called the bride of the sea.

City of Hope unit schedules luncheon

Pomona International Chapter of City of Hope for Lilly Moritz has completed plans for its annual membership luncheon to be held Saturday.

The event will be held at 12:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Frances Shanks, 896 E. Columbia Ave., Pomona.

Jules Gordon, City of Hope coordinator, will present the program.

Costa Mesa rites unite young couple

Newport-Mesa Christian Center in Costa Mesa was the setting for the marriage of Julee Petlansky of Riverside and William Herkelrath of Claremont. The couple was married by the Rev. Charles Smith in a late afternoon ceremony followed by a reception at Southern California College. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Magee of Riverside and Michael Petlansky of Santa Maria.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herkelrath of Claremont. Miss Cathy Turpin of Costa Mesa was honor attendant. Serving as best man was James Herkelrath of Garden Grove. Other attendants were Lori Petlansky, flower girl, and Tommy Meigs, ring bearer.

The couple left directly after the wedding for a honeymoon across the country. They will make their new home in South Hamilton, Mass.

MRS. HUTCHESON

The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Martin P. O'Loghlen, SS.CC., assisted by the Rev. Peter Dennis, SS.CC. and the Rev. John V. Cosgrove. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

Honor attendant was the bride's sister, Miss Christine McBeth. Bridesmaids were Miss Victoria Hutcheson of Atlanta, sister of the groom, and Miss Amy Danis, Atlanta. Julie Dean and Joey Dean, cousins of the bride of Phoenix, Ariz., were flower girl and ring bearer.

Ushers were Jim McBeth, brother of the bride of Pomona, Ben Hazard and Tom Pazik of Atlanta.

Following a reception at Red Hill Country Club the couple went to San Diego and to Sun Valley, Idaho, and will be at home after Sept. 1 in Atlanta.

Purely personal

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD L. Taylor of Pomona announce the arrival in their home on June 30 of a son, Robb Randall, who weighed 6 lbs., 2 oz., at birth, Feb. 14.

Kliewer and Pickett vows are exchanged

Newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Kliewer have established a home in East Ely, Nev., following their marriage at Ely United Methodist Church.

The former Constance Pickett is the daughter of Mrs. Elmer Heusser. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Kliewer of Chino.

Honor attendant was Mrs. Richard Parker. Best man was Richard Parker.

Ushers were Charles Heusser and Dennis Heusser.

MRS. KENNETH KLIEWER

Wedding rite read in chapel

The Bethany Baptist Wedding Chapel in West Covina was the setting for the marriage of Lynn King of La Verne and Michael Morrison of Azusa. The couple was married by Dr. Anderson in a candlelight ceremony followed by a reception at the home of the J. Raymonds.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pericles King of La Verne. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison of Azusa.

Miss Pamela Ann Morrison of Azusa was honor attendant. Serving as best man was Ed Brummett of Valinda. Other attendants were Miss Marie Shaffer, Mrs. Roberta Gibb and Scott D. Gibb. The bride's daughter, Krystal Gilbert, was flower girl.

The newlyweds honeymooned at a ranch in Phoenix, Ariz., and are now at home in El Monte.

Couple married in chapel

Dr. Daniel R. Young, practicing oral surgeon, Pomona, and Janet L. Bitney of Riverside were married Friday evening in the chapel of Trinity United Methodist Church in Pomona by the Rev. John Black. The immediate families and some close friends were in attendance.

Dr. Young has practiced in Pomona since 1960. Mrs. Bitney has been employed as an executive secretary in the Riverside area serving the health professions for the past 10 years.

The Youngs plan to make their home in Upland.

Make-up

Bright, sunny make-up compliments the face much better than heavy, dark shades of lipstick, eye shadow and liner.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER
Q. "WHAT IS AN ABORIGINE?"
CLARA SANDERS SANTA ROSA, CA
THE FIRST PEOPLE TO LIVE IN A PLACE ARE CALLED ABORIGINES. THE NAME IS MOST OFTEN GIVEN TO THE NATIVES OF AUSTRALIA

JOHNNY WONDER'S PUZZLE BOOK: 60 pages of fun and games. Order your book now. Send $1.25 to Puzzle Book, (% this newspaper), P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Aborigines are the very first people known to have lived in a country, such as the Indians and Eskimos of the Western Hemisphere.

Today, however, the name "Aborigine" is most often given to the original people of Australia.

When the British settled Australia, less than 200 years ago, they found the land already inhabited by wandering tribes of dark-skinned Aborigines who lived on the parched, desert land, without shelter or clothing.

They lived by hunting. For weapons, they used long spears and boomerangs.

The Aborigines probably arrived from the islands of Southeast Aisa in some distant period. Today, many Aborgines are changing their old way of life, often going to school and working in factories and on cattle and sheep ranches.

Others who do not like civilization live on reservations and lead a primitive life much like that of their ancestors.

Here's wonderful news! A pocket radio, camera, World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

BACK AGAIN — American tenor Rouvaun, recently recovered from a ruptured esophagus, hepatitis and pneumonia, will perform at a benefit concert for the West End Symphony Orchestra at the Pomona National Golf Club Aug. 16. It will be his first appearance since being released from the hospital last April.

Rouvaun returns to stage

Rouvaun, the tenor that the late Jack Benny called "one of the greatest singers in the world," will perform a benefit concert for the West End Symphony Orchestra at the Pomona National Golf Club at 8 p.m. Aug. 16.

This will be his first appearance since suffering a ruptured esophagus last fall. He later was stricken with hepatitis and peneumonia and his singing career seemed at an end. However, released from the hospital last April, he has recovered his powerful voice and is prepared to return to the stage and concert hall.

The cabaret-type performance will include a no-host cocktail party, buffet supper and dancing to Keith Moon's orchestra. Moon, former trombonist with Woody Herman, is Rouvaun's musical director and also conductor of the 85-piece West End Symphony.

Rouvaun was born James Haun in Salt Lake City. He decided on the name Rouvaun (Rove-on) after an all-night session with a numerologist who convinced him the new stage name would bring him success. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Perry, formerly of San Dimas.

Rouvaun has had a meteoric career in the leading hotels, night clubs and concert halls of the West, particularly Las Vegas. He has appeared on a Jack Benny TV special and recorded six albums for RCA. His concert schedule has taken him throughout the world.

ASSESSMENT INFORMATION — Use this map of the territory included in today's publication of Notice to Assessees to determine in which numbered map book area your property is located. Any questions may be referred to the appropriate Assessor's Regional Office. A complete list of regional office addresses and telephone numbers is included in the Notice to Assessees.

Of the 64 map book areas which make up this newspaper's publication territory 50 are in Assessor's Region 6 and 14 (map books: 8269, 8271, 8272, 8274, 8276, 8278, 8280-8282, 8284-8288) are in Assessor's Region 12.

NOTICE TO ASSESSEES

In keeping with his policy of full disclosure of assessment information, the Assessor of Los Angeles County, with the approval of the Board of Supervisors, has instituted newspaper publication of assessments.

All real property assessments are published in one fifth of the County, (the area designated this year as "Full Publication Area Two"). All value changes in real property assessments in the remaining four fifths of the County are published as "Changes Only."

Parcels are identified by map book, page and parcel number. Where street and street numbers are available, the property is so listed; otherwise assessee's name of record is used.

An assessee, by checking his last year's tax bill, will in most instances be able to identify his map book, page and parcel designation. In the absence of a tax bill, a particular parcel can be found by locating the appropriate area on the map published elsewhere in this newspaper.

Any parcel within Publication Area Two will be listed, whether or not there has been a valuation change. Any parcel outside Publication Area Two, not listed under "Changes Only," had no value change from 1974.

An "H" or "V" following the parcel number indicates, respectively, a homeowner or veteran exemption has been allowed; an asterisk "*" indicates both exemptions have been allowed on the parcel.

The market value of each parcel is also listed. If the assessee disagrees with this valuation, he is urged to contact his regional office for an explanation of the appraisal, or for any other information regarding his assessment, or assessments in general.

SINATRA AND DENVER — John Denver, right, and Frank Sinatra are appearing this week at Harrah's Hotel-Casino in South Lake Tahoe, Nev. More than 670,000 persons tried for reservations, but only 14,000 will be able to see them in their seven-night stand.

Close links of new judge to Brown told

Newsom's father involved in Squaw Valley dispute

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's newest judge is the son of a man involved in a controversial Squaw Valley contract during the administration of Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.'s father.

William A. Newsom, 41, Brown's appointee to the Superior Court in Placer County, has ties linking his family to the Browns for four decades.

One of those ties was a Squaw Valley contract granted in 1960 by Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown's administration to Newsom's father, William A. Newsom Jr.

State officials later described Newsom's contract to run Squaw Valley concessions as a financial disaster for the state and a subsidy to Newsom's corporation.

Former President Richard Nixon said during his unsuccessfully campaign for governor against Brown in 1962 that the Squaw Valley contract was "one of the fishiest messes" of the Brown administration.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post said that under Newsom's contracts with the state "we were paying for everything and getting nothing. It was a oneway street as far as the state was concerned."

The younger Newsom, who was sworn in as judge Monday in Auburn, was not directly involved in the Squaw Valley deal. Those dealings were finally resolved in 1973 when the state traded $1.6 million worth of land in Stockton to buy back the contracts.

A spokesman for Brown, Press Secretary Bill Stall, said the long association between Newsom's father and former Gov. Brown was not a factor in the appointment.

"The governor has known Bill Newsom for a long time, and I'm sure that was a factor," Stall said.

"Aside from that, he's highly qualified to be a judge. His name was submitted to the bar, just like all the rest. They check all the candidates and offer their opinion on how well qualified a person is," Stall added.

Anthony Kline, Brown's legal affairs secretary, said Newsom received "an extremely high rating" from the State Bar.

Newsom, who was Brown's Placer County campaign chairman last year, was a childhood friend of Brown. He is an exception to Brown's self imposed policy of appointing to office people who have been excluded from government.

Six of the other eight judges appointed last month by Brown were women or minorities.

In a telephone interview Tuesday, the new judge described how he got that appointment and joked he is Brown's "token Irish Catholic."

"I sort of grew up with Jerry. We went on vacations together and were close friends," Newsom said.

"I like to think I'm not just some political appointee, and that I'm qualified for the job.

"But my political views are nearly identical to Jerry's. If I were governor, I'd be doing the same that he's doing. I wouldn't be appointing many people like me" from prominent families, Newsom said.

HEW suggests higher liquor tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Department of Health, Education and Welfare staff paper proposes boosting liquor taxes and restricting liquor advertising as part of the effort to reduce death and disease caused by alcoholic beverages.

The still-confidential report also suggests federal limits on the tar and nicotine content of cigarettes to cut the toll of cancer, heart and lung diseases.

The liquor and cigarette proposals would require congressional approval. An HEW source who has read the paper said it does not recommend legislation but simply "lists things that could be done if someone wanted to do them."

HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger has vehemently refused to release the report to the public, according to department sources. He reportedly told aides that any copies which may have leaked to outsiders are "stolen documents," the sources said.

Weinberger leaves HEW Friday and will be succeeded by University of Alabama President F. David Mathews.

The alcohol and cigarette proposals are contained in HEW's second five-year blueprint for improving the nation's health and setting priorities through 1980.

Among the suggestions for reducing alcohol consumption are decreasing the alcoholic content of some beverages, restricting advertising, ending tax deductions for alcoholic advertisements and taxing beverages according to their alcoholic content.

HEW estimates that there are about nine million alcoholics in the United States and that the cost because of deaths, illnesses and lost work reaches into the billions.

The staff paper reiterated Weinberger's request to Congress last week, in submitting the government's ninth smoking and health report, to give HEW or some other agency the authority to ban cigarettes high in tar and nicotine.

The new five-year health plan would carry HEW's preventive medicine policy into a new area and would be sure to draw heavy opposition from the tobacco and alcoholic beverage industries.

Gen. Lee a citizen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee won his final skirmish of the Civil War Tuesday when President Ford restored his full rights of citizenship.

"This legislation corrects a 110-year oversight in American history," Ford declared as he signed a resolution on the collonaded portico of the Lee mansion in nearby Arlington, Va.

A dozen descendants of the commander of the Confederate armies and about 300 sweltering tourists observed as Ford praised Lee as a "symbol of valor and duty."

"Adults save 20% off regular Coach air fare."

"Kids save 50%."

50% OFF
20% OFF

All summer long, adults can save 20% off regular Coach fare. Children under 12 save 50% when you take them along. And you'll still receive all the Friendship Services you've come to expect from United, like your choice of delicious meals and inflight entertainment.

Just buy your round-trip ticket to any of these cities at least 7 days ahead and reserve both departing and return flights. You may change your return flight if necessary, but you must stay from 7 to 30 days.

Summer rates are in effect until September 15th, when adult savings increase to 25%. Fare is not available during certain holiday periods, or from 2:00 p.m. Friday to 10:30 a.m. Saturday and 2:00 p.m. Sunday to 10:30 a.m. Monday.

The Bicentennial Fare ends January 31, 1976.

Call your Travel Agent for details. Or ask about our individual tours that also give you great savings on rental cars and hotels. Or call United at 983-1721.

Partners in Travel with Western International Hotels.
